FASHION SHOW: A TAILORED SUCCESS

FASHION SHOW

Every spring McClatchy girls are given the enjoyable experience of a fashion show presented by the cooking, sewing, and family management classes. This year's program was presented to the members of the P.T.A. and to the girls of the student body. Both groups were presented with a colorful array of fashions which caught their fancies.

Those who participated in this worthwhile event worked hard under the direction of the sponsors and student chairmen to create a variety of fashions which were both pleasing to the eye and easy on the budget. This event is so beneficial to all concerned that we hope it will continue for many years.

BAND AND ORCHESTRA

Performing at both football games and other sporting events, McClatchy's marching band is a colorful addition to our school's musical tradition. Under the direction of Mr. Perron the band displays both a fine quality of music and precise imaginative field marching drills.

Adding still another sweep to McClatchy's musical agenda is our fine orchestra. Again directed by Mr. Perron, the orchestra performs at a variety of both official and school functions.

THE HEART SPEAKS THROUGH SONG

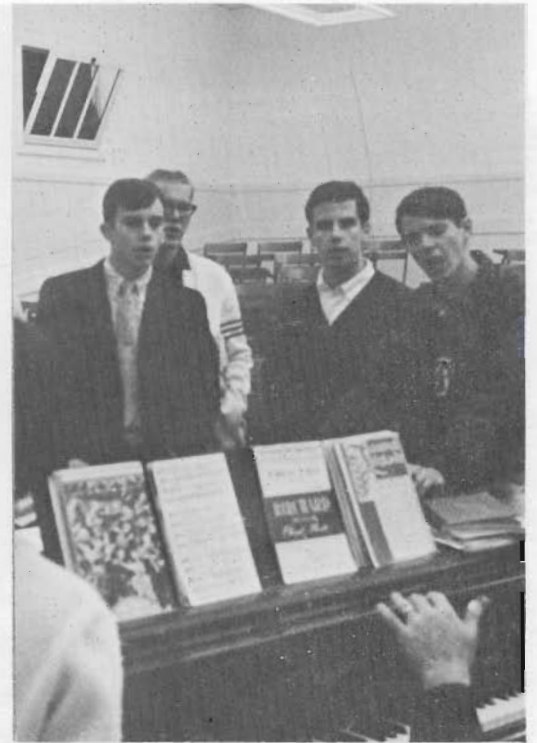

CHOIRS

Fine musicians abound at McClatchy. The several choirs offer an always lilting air to the school. Music offers beautiful enjoyment and relaxation and should be a part of every life.

The fine arts program has been constantly expanding and offers many opportunities to the musically oriented student.

Under the direction of Mr. Casey, the various choirs include Concert Choir, Madrigal Choir, and A'cappella I. These students perform at many functions both on campus and in the greater Sacramento area. The quality of musicianship remains high and the caliber of performance by these students deserves lavish praise.

PROSPECTOR

Delving into the many aspects of the art of becoming a newspaperman has become the goal of McClatchy's Prospector newspaper staff. The students have endeavored to learn the intricacies of the newspaper trade, combining this with practical newspaper work.

The journalism class, under the direction of Mr. Buffola, linked both the learning process and practical application with the publication of the weekly 4-page Prospector.

Standards remained consistently high both in quality of material and quality of production. The journalism students should be given words of encouragement for their task which has been performed well here at McClatchy.

NUGGET--ONE OF THE WO

NUGGET

It is a tedious year-long endeavor to put out a successful yearbook. The detail work and technical aspects are unbelievably complicated and it takes much labor to comprehend and sort out copious materials in order to shape an original and creative book.

Striving to equal McClatchy's constantly superior works, this year's staff has worked long and hard to please the students, and to publish an appreciated book. The benefits gained from work on the Nugget are lasting; the experience and knowledge gained are invaluable and the total aura of yearbook production offers much to the participant staff.
