FOLK SONG CLUB

The Folk Song Club, a fairly new organization of McClatchy, is one of fun and enjoyment for any music lover or for one who enjoys the company of others. Students go with guitars and their voices atune to have a memorable time. They discuss the music they sing; it has much meaning and beauty to it. There is no greater feeling than being a part and lover of something and in the Folk Song Club one is just that. You may join any section as there are different types of songs being sung and may join the one that suits your mood.

Music is meant to be enjoyed and understood. The knowledge of music can open new worlds to anyone who wishes to learn.

DRAMA CLUB

The Drama Club, having a large and active membership, has the purpose of furthering students interests in the fine arts and also to enable interested students to acquire acting experience. With the dedicated help of Mr. Purtill, the Drama Club's sponsor, the students are aided and advised on the matters concerning the club's work.

Each year the Senior Play is presented to C.K. McClatchy, adding culture and delight to the school. This year's play, Harvey, was no exception to the past for it provided humor at its best and pure enjoyment for the audience. The actors, not all members of the Drama Club for it is not required, practiced weeks in advance

HISTORY CLUB

The History Club again distinguished itself as one of the most active and worthwhile student associations on campus. Members of this elite honors group were chosen precisely because of their exceptional talents in the social science department. This year's group enthusiastically met with representatives of the Democratic and Republican State Central Committees for a session of stirring debate on current political issues. A local parole board official introduced these students to the internal world of crime, justice, reward, and punishment. As can be seen by these examples, the main aim of this organization was to encourage interest in the dealings of local, state, and national government.

MATH CLUB

The eager members of this worthwhile club seek to broaden their minds in the field of mathematics and to delve into the unknown regions of men's minds. They seek to find reasons for everything and to reason with the greatest of ability. Members must have a "B" or better grade in mathematics to qualify and need to show an active interest in the subject. With the help of the two able sponsors, Mr. Robison and Mr. Blair, these young people are shown reasons and mysteries of this life, and even beyond this life into the future in hopes of finding great discoveries as the mathematicians in the past have uncovered.

Students and Faculty of McClatchy High School

To be an A.F.S. student is not merely to have the chance to come to the United States, live with a family, and attend one of the American high schools. For if another French student could come here, stay with a family, and go to one of Sacramento's high schools, as I did, he could never have "the" experience which was mine. To be an A.F.S. Student is something more than just living here. It is like being a foreign ambassador received as a guest for a year in an American community.

What makes our year in the United States so great and unique is largely dependent on our high school. I was lucky — McClatchy opened to me the wonderful and exciting world of American youth in both their intellectual and social endeavors.

Naturally during my year not everything has been beautiful and fine. Many times I have been unhappy, but when I see my whole year, it appears to me like a dream from which I will never awake.

So, for my visit to the U.S.A. and for everything that you have done for me during this year, from all my heart, thank you very much.

I will never forget you, and I hope to see you again, perhaps in my own country. For this, I ask the blessing of the Lord.

To you with all my love forever,
Martine Cellario

CALIFORNIA EDUCATION CLUB

For those students who anticipate a career in education, especially those who are interested in a teaching career, the California Education Club is a logical choice of activities. This club was organized in order that students with this common ambition — to educate and inform — may meet together and exchange ideas.

Our democracy depends upon an educated population. For this reason, those students who plan to help educate our population are helping to further our country in its pursuit of democratic goals.

The members of C.E.C. benefited from their membership in this organization in many ways.

ART CLUB

The Art Club, one of McClatchy's most interesting clubs, was organized by C.K. art students for the purpose of promoting an active interest in artistic endeavors among the student body. The limited membership made a widely varied program possible and the group was guided by its able sponsors and energetic officers.

Students who wished to pursue their activities in the field of art further than was possible in the regular art classes were enthusiastic and loyal supporters of the Art Club. They discussed contemporary art techniques, artists, and other pertinent topics. Films and lectures were integrated into a program of pleasurable study meant to entertain as well as to inform.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

While in the classroom students are taught the French language, how to spell, read and speak the language, but it is not often that a student has the opportunity to speak it outside the classroom. The well-known French Club, or better yet, Le Cercle Francais, gave any interested student the opportunity to speak the language and to learn to enjoy and appreciate the study of this beautiful foreign tongue.

During the once-a-month meetings of this club students took up the study of the culture of France, and the major part of these meetings was conducted entirely in French.

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Club was formed for the purpose of promoting interest in the Spanish language, culture, and traditions. Open to any student who has completed four semesters of high school Spanish, the club was a valuable aid to serious students. As the meetings were conducted entirely in Spanish, the students were able to practice speaking the language aloud, and they also learned much about the Spanish-speaking countries when members who have traveled in these countries spoke about their exciting experiences.

This year the club, in addition to providing aid to students of Spanish, had a Christmas party, constructed a magnificent Homecoming float, and enjoyed a Spanish movie at the El Centro Theater.

GERMAN CLUB

Through the study of German, one gains valuable knowledge in the fields of German literature, culture, friendship, and philosophy. The German Club, with its energetic sponsors Mrs. Tappan and Mr. Buffalo, and active and willing membership, gained a strong position in the line-up of clubs this year.

Naturally functioning as a stimulus to students seeking further information about the German language and culture, it filled the needs of German students admirably. During the annual Homecoming football game, the German Club utilized the talents of its members and was proudly represented by the winning float during the half-time ceremonies. A fitting tribute to a fine club.

LATIN CLUB

One of McClatchy's most active and popular clubs was this one, the Latin Club. Due to its enthusiastic members, the organization that was formed for the purpose of promoting interest in a dead language, but was enjoyed by a very live group. Among the rival language clubs the Latin Club was noted for its staunch and loyal supporters and members, and for its many and varied activities.

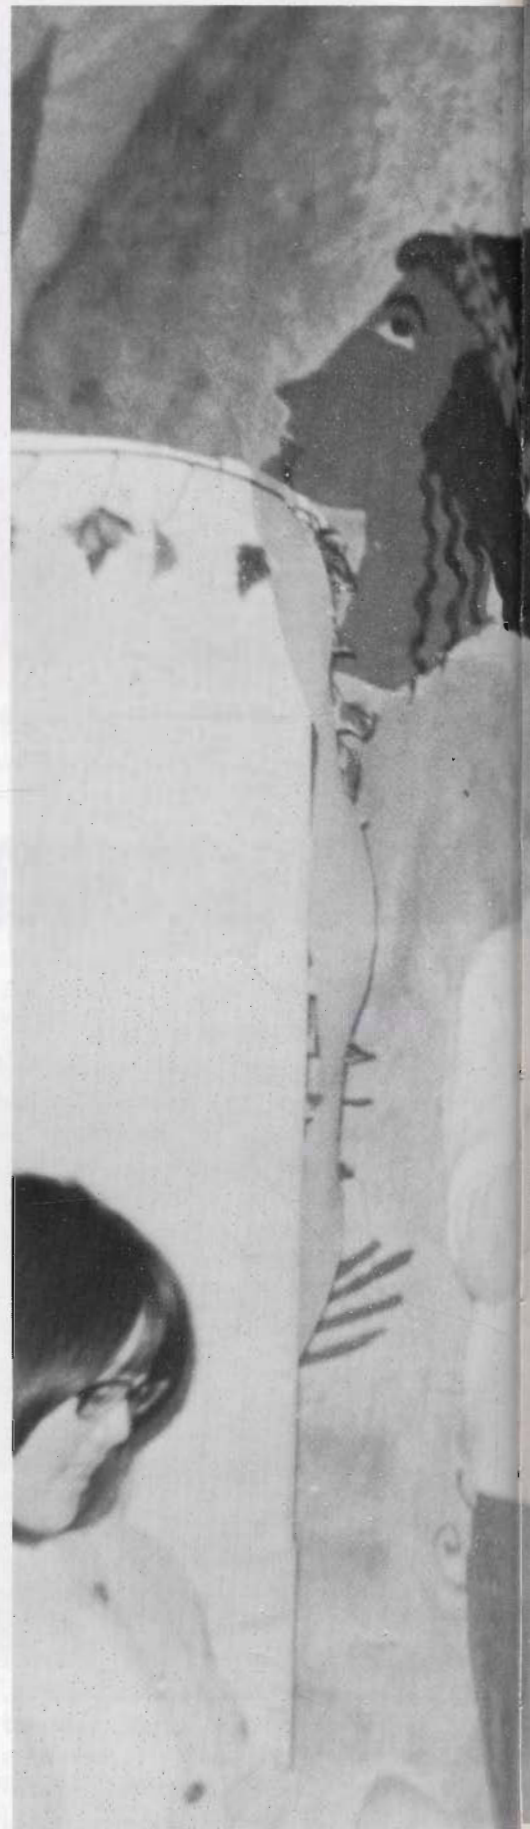

This year the club had its annual banquet, enjoyed many guest speakers, and competed against the Faineat Society in a series of contests. Among these was the Hula Hooping Contest in which the Latin Club showed its true strength and emerged the victor. The members also were fortunate to enjoy a springtime picnic at which they proved conclusively that they are indeed superior in one area — the art of eating. Latins rule! McClatchy is fortunate to have among its students this group of enthusiastic student leaders.
