CALIFORNIA SCHOLARSHIP FEDERATION

The California Scholarship Federation consists of a group of students who have earned a high standing in both scholarship and citizenship and who have applied for membership in this organization. The statewide federation of high school students who have been accepted on the basis of their superior achievement, as reflected in their progress reports, is involved in many worthwhile projects and activities.

With the aid of its sponsors, Mr. Fong and Mrs. Stohr, this group of energetic members maintained a bulletin board on which regularly posted information concerning scholarship opportunities appeared. Another group of members compiled a pamphlet containing information about colleges and universities—requirements, entrance tests, application procedures and other information valuable to interested high school students.

SEALBEARERS

Students who, during their six semesters at McClatchy, earn membership in C.S.F. for at least four semesters, are given the title of sealbearer. These four semester's of membership represent a great deal of hard work and tenacity and deserve a reward. The sealbearer earns a seal which is attached to his permanent record, and a pin which only sealbearers are allowed to wear. This accomplishment is recognized by colleges and universities as they consider a student's application for admission.

HUE AND CRY

As students develop scholastically and mentally they search for answers to many questions. The Hue and Cry is one that reveals the answers to these questions. This provides one with the opportunity to uncover debatable issues, to study sciences and foreign languages. It provides the student with information that helps to form his ideas and opinions.

These are not special students that are members of this unique club, but are ones who are searching for the truth and are looking for a challenge. This is a club in which a student may speak freely to express his feelings and will have good arguments against and for his ideas.

CREATIVE WRITING

McClatchy's Creative Writing Club was formed for the purpose of helping interested and talented students improve their writing techniques. Through methods of discussion and criticism the students learn the strengths and weaknesses of their writing ability and, with the knowledge, better themselves and their writing ability.

In order to become a member of the Creative Writing Club one must submit an essay, short story, or other example of writing skill to the members of the club for constructive criticism and evaluation. After surviving this first painful session the students are accepted by the club and continue to submit their work. The club members evaluate the work of their peers and also discuss current literary works.

The Creative Writing Club has done much to encourage talented students in their attempts to express themselves.

AND EFFICIENCY

FAINEANT'S

Ingenuity and imagination continue to be the sparks which enhance the world of the young. However, McClatchy's world is now blessed with an organization of total originality. The Faineant Society and Literary Review Club with its founder and president Steve Hoschler stands out as a voice for protest. The formation of the group was a break from the norm of McClatchy clubs. Their avowed purpose was claimed to be to achieve total passivity. Yet the group has been one of the most active on campus. Involved in money-raising ventures for charity, picketing and general merriment the Faineant's have been an integral part of McClatchy's activity.

GIRLS SPORTS CLUB

The Girls Sports Club is the newest club at McClatchy, having been started in the spring of 1966. It started as a few girls getting together after school to play badminton. The girls enjoyed playing so much that in the fall of this year, basketball was started. That was played for six or seven weeks and when that was finished volleyball was begun. The girls would play tournaments, switching around so that all the teams had chances of playing each other. At the end of these tournaments trophies were given to the winners.

Recently gymnastics has been added to the sports of the club which has turned out nicely. The girls in this division went to Joaquin Miller, as the facilities are very good there, and worked out for an hour and a half every day after school.

The results of these activities were so successful and enthusiastic among the girls that they went to the teachers to see about forming a club. Soon a constitution was drawn up, Miss Janet Olmstead was chosen as sponsor, and a club was born.

MYSTIC AND TRANSCENDENTAL

MYSTIC AND TRANSCENDENTAL PHILSLOPHY SOCIETY

As interest in a subject becomes widespread there spring up organizations which promote study and investigation of that subject. A group of students at McClatchy recently organized a new club for this purpose. The Mystic and Transcendental Philsophy Society was formed to stimulate interest in the realm of the supernatural which have been under study for many years.

Open to any student who submits a short paper having to do with some aspect of the supernatural, the club offered many opportunities to learn about this subject through exotic guest speakers, group projects, and films. It was indeed a unique addition to McClatchy's activities.

HEALTH CAREERS CLUB

Those wishing to embark on a career dealing with the many areas of medical science have an excellent opportunity to learn more about the varied medical professions. McClatchy has formed a Health Careers Club for all interested students. Along with their sponsor, Mrs. Olson, the members endeavored to offer to their members varied speakers, programs, and tours of interest spots. Their efforts have been successful; the organization has been one of the most vital on McClatchy's campus.
