"OUR TOWN"

by THORNTON WILDER

Dealing with small town family life, love, marriage and death, Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" proved to be an outstanding drama production.

Simple costumes and few props demanded excellent casting.

Mr. Muller, drama coach, awarded leading roles to Bill Ravo, Calvin Kirby and Karen Higday. The supporting cast of thirty-three students and the hard work of those behind the scene was commendable.

DRAMA

Drama students participate in many phases of work before a play is ready for an audience. Money must be earned to finance the production; costumes have to be made; stage sets are prepared, and hours are given to rehearsals. The work of many and the cooperation of all make a good play for an appreciative audience.
