

1930
TOKAY

"Woodbridge Bridge," Lodi

The 1930
WOKAY
YEAR BOOK of the
LODI UNION High School
LODI CALIFORNIA

Foreword

Forward always. If the stream of ignorance be deep, dark, and perilous, work hard and bridge it. It cannot stop you. Do not be towed under in its dangerous whirlpools. Cross over and above it on a bridge built with your own mind and hands. Standing alone, books and schools mean nothing, but with proper use they can be made the foundation of your bridge. After your toil is finished and you have passed over, you may look back and see how sturdy and graceful the bridge stands arching from the first glimpse of knowledge, over the unruly flood of ignorance to a land of intelligence and power.

In like manner, the members of the staff have this year tried to bridge the difficulties that presented themselves in the making of this annual. Every member has worked hard also in collecting a record that will span the activities of the school year both in business and in pleasure, and they have placed the results of their efforts here in this book making it their completed bridge. They sincerely hope that this, the Tokay for 1930, will win your appreciation.

To
Miss Eleanor M. Strate

in gratitude for her hearty co-operation and service in the activities and dramatic productions of the student body, this annual is affectionately dedicated.

In Memoriam

Francis Larson

Class of '30

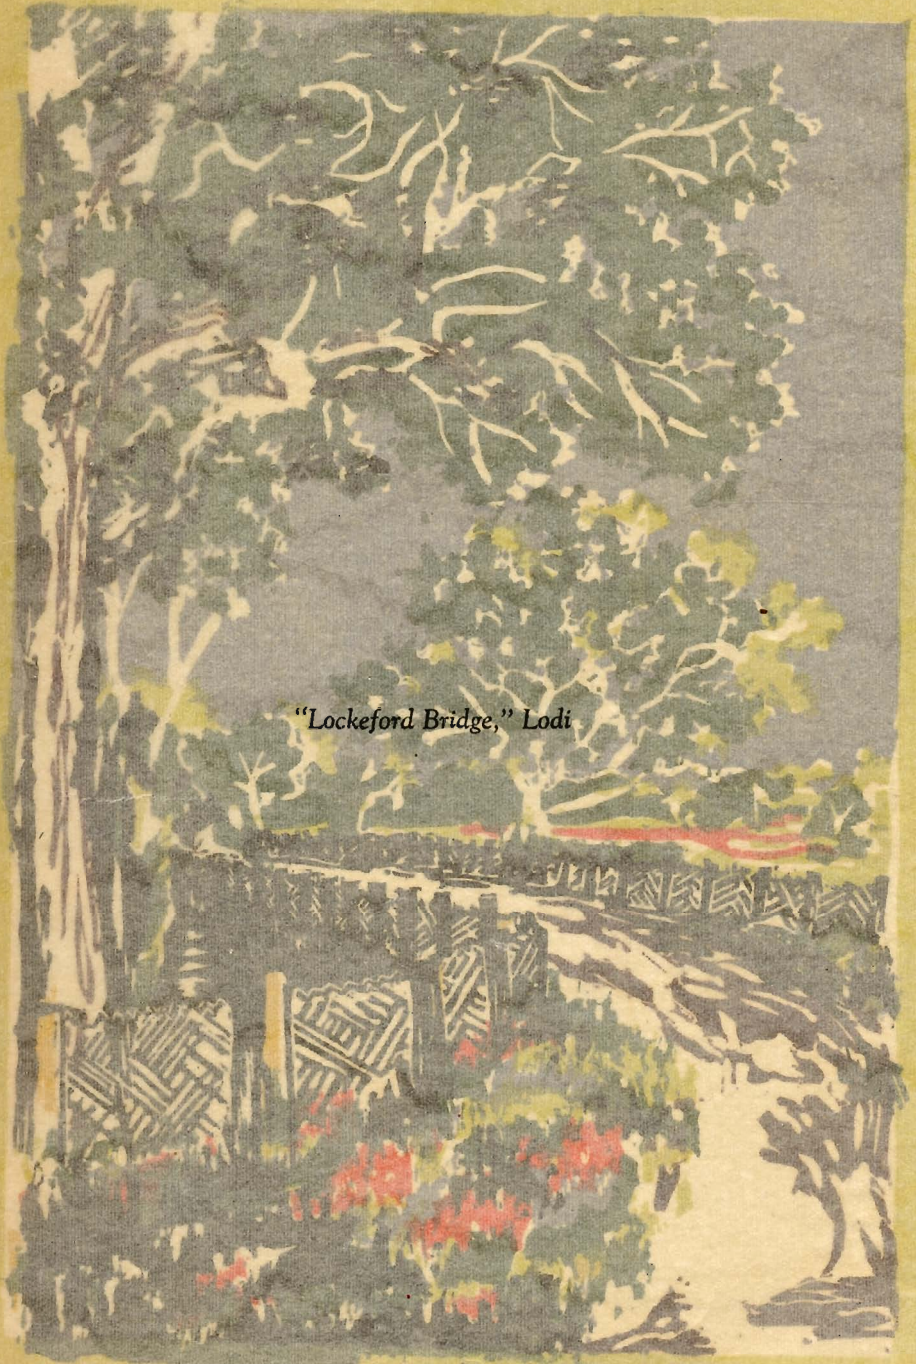

Earl Mitchell

Class of '32

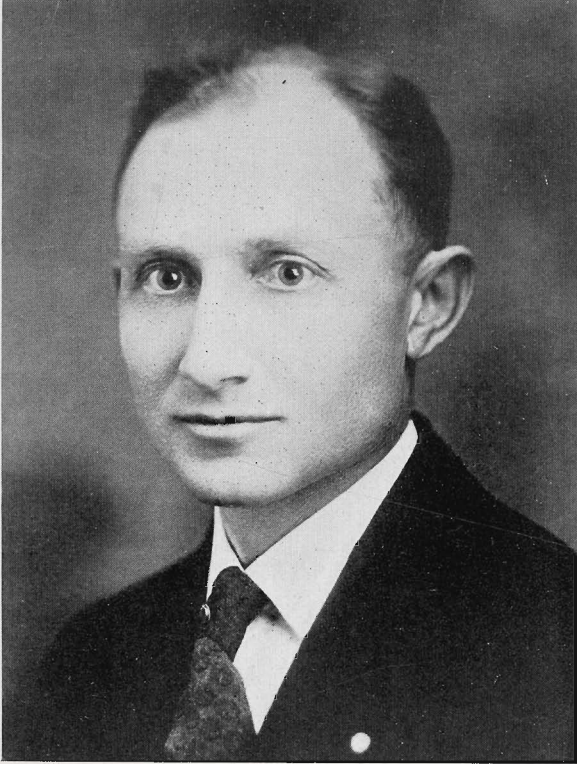

James Siegfried

Class of '32

"Lockeford Bridge," Lodi

Our Best

Victor A. Rohrer
Principal Lodi Union High School

The world about us is constantly asking for something better. And progress answers this demand. Whether or not each of us has a real part in it, depends upon the application and wisdom we put into our individual efforts. Some one has said that the reason opportunity is so often turned down by folks, is because it usually appears disguised as hard work. Determination and persistence are required to meet the challenge which hard tasks fling out to us as we stand upon the threshold of adult manhood and womanhood.

In addition to personal endeavors, we find an increasing demand upon us in the matter of co-operation. Folks must learn to work together, and school life is the time to learn it. The growing complexity of life makes increasing demands upon us for consideration of the rights of others and of our obligation to them. President Hoover in his inaugural address reminded us of a great latent ability of the people of our nation to develop this spirit of co-operation, and the necessity of putting it into practice.

If we make our best personal efforts, and succeed in working with others, then and then only are we able to achieve the best that modern American civilization has to offer us. Happiness and a profound satisfaction will abide in us if we succeed in attaining full self-realization. And my hearty wish for each of you, is that you may in a very real sense reach this goal of a well rounded life, always mindful that in serving others, we best serve our better selves.

MR. ROHRER.

Lodi Union High School

An Appreciation

We, the students of Lodi High, wish to show our appreciation to the community for the many things that the community has done, in order that we might attend one of the very best high schools in the State of California.

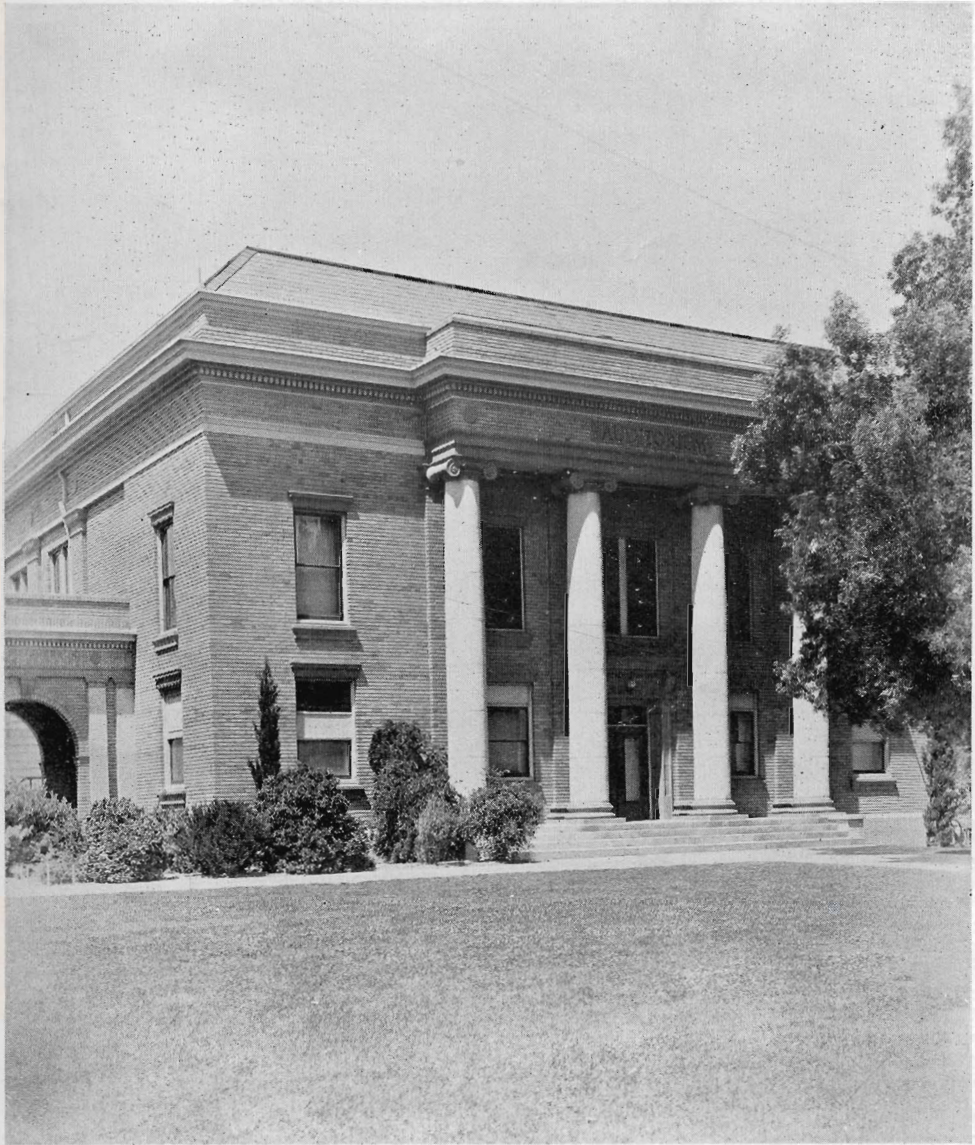

We sincerely give thanks to those who have made this possible, and to those who have encouraged us and sent us on our way to the goal that is shining before us.

The Science Building

The Main Building

Assembly

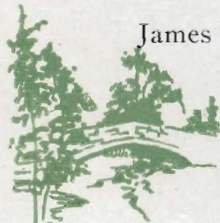

Faculty

Faculty

Halsey, Story, Carroll, Haglund, Graham, Barron, Burrell, Borst, Crose, Erich, Hatfield, Diekman, Fortmanu, Davis, V. A. Rohrer (principal), Reese, Davis, Barneby.

- Victor A. Rohrer, B.A.Principal
B.A., Ohio Wesleyan University
- Maud H. Davis, B.A.Vice-Principal, *Mathematics
B.A., University of Indiana
- Amos P. Reese, B.S. *Amos P. Reese*Vice-Principal, Mathematics
B.S., Lafayette College
- Ruby Barnebey, M.A.English
B.A., M.A., University of Nebraska
- Loyda Barron, B.A.Art
B.A., University of California
- Evan Borst, B.S.History
B.S., University of Minnesota
- Mrs. Beulah H. Burrell, M.A.Commercial
B.A., M.A., University of Oklahoma
- Mrs. Bess Russell Carroll,Dressmaking
- James E. Conklin,Dean of Boys, Physical Education
University of California

- Ira N. Crose,.....*Mechanical Drawing
San Jose State Teachers' College
- Margaret B. Davis, B.A. Librarian
B.A., University of California
- Herman Diekman, B.S.*Agriculture
B.S., Montana State College
- Mrs. Carrie Erich,.....Carrie Erich Home Economics
San Jose State Teachers' College
- Helen Fortmann, B.A. English, Art
B.A., University of California
- Agnes Graham, M.A. History
B.A., M.A., University of Kansas
- Stella Haglund, B.S.Stella J. Haglund Girls' Physical Education
B.S., University of Oregon
- Sydney Halsey,..... Band and Orchestra
Victoria College
- Mrs. Leota G. Hatfield, B.A. Mathematics
B.A., University of California
- Mrs. Olga Heindl, B.A. Americanization
B.A., University of California
- Verne Hoffman, B.S. Agriculture
B.S., University of California

Faculty

Rinde, McDole, Strate, Stewart, Mudra, Rice, Taylor, Scannell, Spafford,
Hoffman, Rinn, Holm, Mendenhall, Van Hollebeke, McCall, Stone, Pilkington, Winsor,
Cooklin, Smith, Murphy.

Signa Holm, B.S. Dean of Girls, Physical Education
 B.S., University of California

Jessie McCall, B.M. Music
 San Jose State Teachers' College; B.M., College of Pacific

Elizabeth McDole, B.A. Elizabeth McDole *English
 B.A., Ohio Wesleyan University

Ruth Mendenhall, M.A. Ruth Mendenhall English
 B.A., Ohio State University; M.A., University of California

Wm. Mudra, B.A. Athletics
 B.A., Williamette University

Malcolm Murphy, M.A. History
 B.A., Colorado College; M.A., Stanford University

Gladys Pilkington, B.S. English
 B.S., University of California

Mrs. Louise T. Rice, B.A. History
 B.A., Parsons College

Charles Rinde, B.A. Science
 B.A., University of California

Ida Rinn, M.A. *Spanish
 B.L., M.A., University of California

Ruth Scannell, B.A. Science
 B.A., Smith College

W. Corell Smith, B.A. Science
 B.A., Stanford University

Everett Spafford, Woodwork, Farm Mechanics
 Iowa State Teachers' College

Mrs. Alice Stewart, B.A. English
 B.A., University of California

Nellie Stone, M.A. Commercial
 B.A., M.A., University of Washington

Mrs. Edith Story, B.M. Music
 B.M., College of Pacific

Eleanor Strate, B.A. English
 B.A., University of California

Kathryn Taylor, Ph.B. Kathryn Taylor *Latin
 Ph.B., University of Iowa

Hortense Van Hollebeke, B.S. Commercial
 B.S., Oregon State College

P. H. D. Windsor, Woodwork
 College of the Pacific

* Head of Department.

"The Rialto Bridge," Italy

Contents
CLASSES
LITERARY ACTIVITIES
DRAMATICS
ATHLETICS

Student Body Council

Student Body Council

Marion Lasell, president; Elizabeth DeVinny, secretary
 McClure, low junior; Van Baskirk, low sophomore; Anderson, high junior; Thomas, low senior Matthews, vice-president; Garrison, high senior; Courtney, high senior; Crete, high sophomore Poundstone, editor, "Tokay"; Schaffner, editor, "Flame"

Student Body Council

The year, 1929-'30, marks the first year of student government in Lodi High.

At the first meeting of the Student Council, Mr. Victor A. Rohrer, principal of the high school, stated that one of the chief objects of student government is the learning and application of parliamentary procedure. Throughout life, he said, this knowledge will be found invaluable. The Student Council has tried to carry out this principle to the best of its ability.

Last year a new constitution was drafted, but the final copy was lost. As soon as the machinery of school activities was in good working order a committee began work on a general revision of the old constitution.

On January 8, the result of their labors was submitted to a vote of the student body.

One of the duties of the Student Council is to issue charters to organizations and clubs. This year a number of clubs have been formed. These include the Spanish Club, Band and Orchestra Club, Aeronautics, and Chemistry Clubs, Ye Olde Literary Guild, the High Y, and a chapter of the California Scholarship Federation.

On the first Wednesday of every month the activity period is given over to a meeting of the Student Body. Although there has been little business to transact, the meetings have given practice in conducting a meeting according to the rules of parliamentary procedure. The major part of most of the periods has been given over to programs. Several pep rallies have been held. Four performances have been given by outside entertainers whose expenses were paid by the student body, a ten-cent admission being charged.

In nearly all the Student Council meetings most of the time was filled and in several instances extra time was allotted for finishing the necessary business.

There has been the usual expenditure in the athletic department. One of the outstanding items in this line was the introduction of a new block chenille L, a dollar and a half in price, an increase of a dollar over the old ones.

In the music department, a Sousa-phone was purchased for a hundred dollars and also several drums and their covers for street parades.

The expenses of the editor of the Tokay were paid to a convention of journalistic students of high schools held at the University of California, March 21.

Since student government has been introduced into Lodi High, more interest has been taken in student affairs. Although many mistakes have been made, profit has been gained, and the officers can well feel that they have accomplished much and have paved the way for those who will, after them, assume the responsibilities of school activities.

