Junior Class

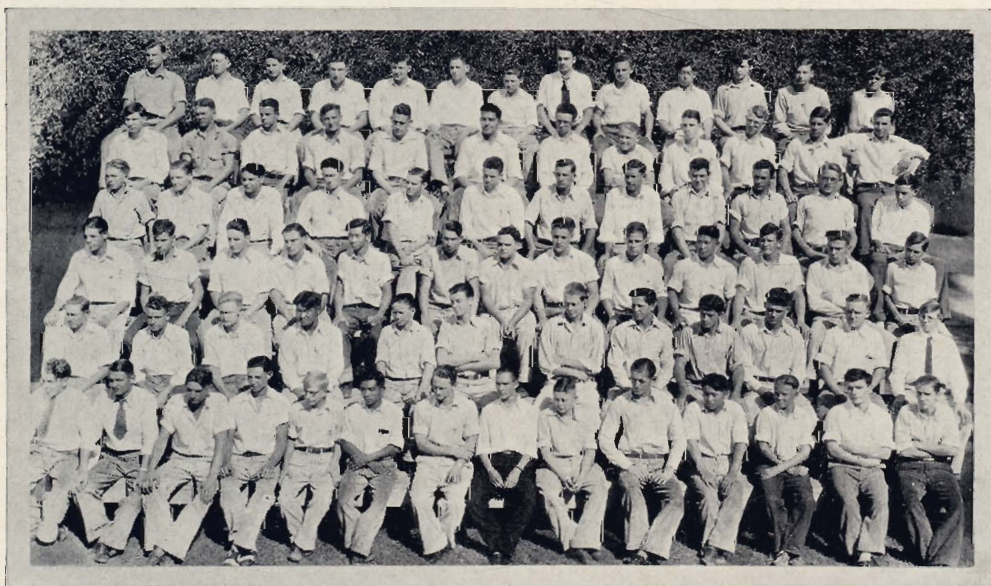

PILOTED through the year 1931-'32 by the hard-working officers, Peter Mondavi, president; Russell Brentlinger, vice president; Matsuo Okazaki, secretary; and Ila McCoy, treasurer, with the aid of the class advisers, Miss Ruby Barnebey, Mrs. Beatrice Kreuzberger, and Corell Smith, the Junior Class reviews their past activities quite proudly.

The first big problem confronting this class was that of finding means by which to replenish the rather small sum in the treasury. Many wise heads were put together and the result was the sponsoring of a profitable food sale.

Always looking into the future, the Juniors saw the date of the Junior-Senior Banquet steadily approaching. Then came another glance into the treasury. Another money-making scheme appeared. Try-outs for the Junior play, "Skidding," were held. Those chosen for the various roles were: Aunt Milly, Kathryn Graham; Andy Hardy, Maurice Thompson; Mrs. Hardy, Marian Peterson; Judge Hardy, Leland Cain; Grandfather, Alvin Schnabel; Estelle, Robinette Fisher; Marian, Violet Filler; Myra, Winifred Merrill; Wayne Trenton, Francis Pierce; and Mr. Stubbins, Donald Andrews. January 22 soon rolled around, bringing with it satisfactory receipts from the play.

In February bulletin boards advertised a ten-cent assembly given by Dr. Burdick demonstrating liquid air, and in one corner appeared the caption, "Sponsored by the Junior Class."

While all this was taking place, the Junior girls, with Dorothy Harshner as captain, placed first in volley ball. The team consisted of Marjorie Harney,

Schmidt, Myers, Mettler, Engel, Jackson, Stotz, Powell, Hieb, Thomas, Hiramoto, Powers, Cain, Marshall - Clow, Mettler, Sanguinetti, Kachuck, Smith, Harney, Pierson, Priebe, Howery, Frey, Morton, Crete - S. Woods, Rimando, F. Wood, Pierce, Eddlemon, Johnson, Ferdun, Hack, Acker, Schnabel, Lind, Moran - Peterson, Harris, Fillhardt, Molinengo, Matsuhiko, Badgly, Andrews, Runnels, Lynn, Okazaki, Brentlinger, Frey, Corda - Walther, Filler, Barth, Kishida, Knupfer, Ray, Hagen, Cusumano, Fausnaugh, Wilson, Anderson, Sweeney - Michaelson, Geosz, Pugno, Wageman, Perry, Funamura, Matz, Neal, Wright, Menzel, Matsuda, Bishopberger, Mondavi, Siegfried

Schatz, Campbell, Wilkinson, Wetzel, Hofferber, Hiramoto, Kern, Gross, Salomon, Post, Declusin, Emde, Newman, Blakely, Moore — Cooper, Ishida, Moore, Donald, Gillette, Litchfield, Hauff, Thompson, Rieveschl, Anshutz, Serra, Gallagher, Waldon, Filler, Ackerman — Harshner, Bacigalupi, Harney, Smithson, Jacobsen, Salaun, Smith, Debrick, Cheatham, Klipfel, Wakefield, Thiel, Fisher — Schnell, Binger, Sturla, Howard, Koenig, Hunting, Clifton, Jones, Jackson, Benton, Gregg, Lewis, Barsotti — Nolan, Austin, Rode, Graham, Hoff, McCoy, Aberle, Cooper, Cheatham, Binger, Teierle, Lyon, Davis, Rabusin, Handel — Maroni, Allington, Perkins, Nies, Mayberry, Burson, Brixey, Happe, Baron, Gordon, Engel, Dargitz, Stabbe!

Lois Emde, Robinette Fisher, Leona Ackerman, Cleola Schotz, Florence Barsotti, Winifred Wilkinson, Tillie Rabusin, and Marjorie Declusin.

Under the leadership of Leona Ackerman as captain, the Juniors managed to capture second place in basketball. Leona's team claimed as members: Cleola Schotz, forward; Lois Emde, and Maurine Smith, guards; Dorothy Harshner and Florence Barsotti, centers; and Winifred Wilkinson, substitute.

The Junior hockey team, Cleola Schotz, captain, Barbara Newman, Robinette Fisher, Dorothy Harshner, Florence Barsotti, Maurine Smith, Leona Ackerman, Lois Emde, Mary Rathbun, Winifred Wilkinson, and Dolores Handel, took third place.

The Class of '33 was quite satisfactorily represented in the various school activities by having membership in the Chemistry Club, California Scholarship Federation, Aeronautics Club, Agriculture Club, Girls' Association, B. N. O. Club, International Club, "Flame" and "Tokay" Staffs, and Student Body Council.

In the Agricultural Department, Francis Pierce was treasurer of the Ag Club, and a member of the team which took second place in a grape-judging contest at Davis.

The Juniors upheld their class quite well in the B. N. O. Contest on Friday, April 15. Aimee Salomon, an entrant in Class A, was the winner of the cup.

The final event of the year, a night of fun, and farewells, the Junior-Senior Banquet on May 28 was a real success.

Now the members of the Class of '33 fondly bid adieu to the name they have so worthily defended and honored during the past year as they proudly, yes, eagerly accept the title of Seniors. — Kathryn Graham.

Sophomore Class

THE Class of '34 is very large. Therefore Sophomores have participated in almost every activity in the school. Special talent has been shown by some of the students, while others in the class have taken lesser positions but have aided the coaches, teachers, and directors very much. Although a few of the class have dropped out, a very small percentage has been lost. The class has representatives in athletics, the Ag Club, on judging teams, in band, orchestra, chorus, the Scholarship Federation, and on the "Flame."

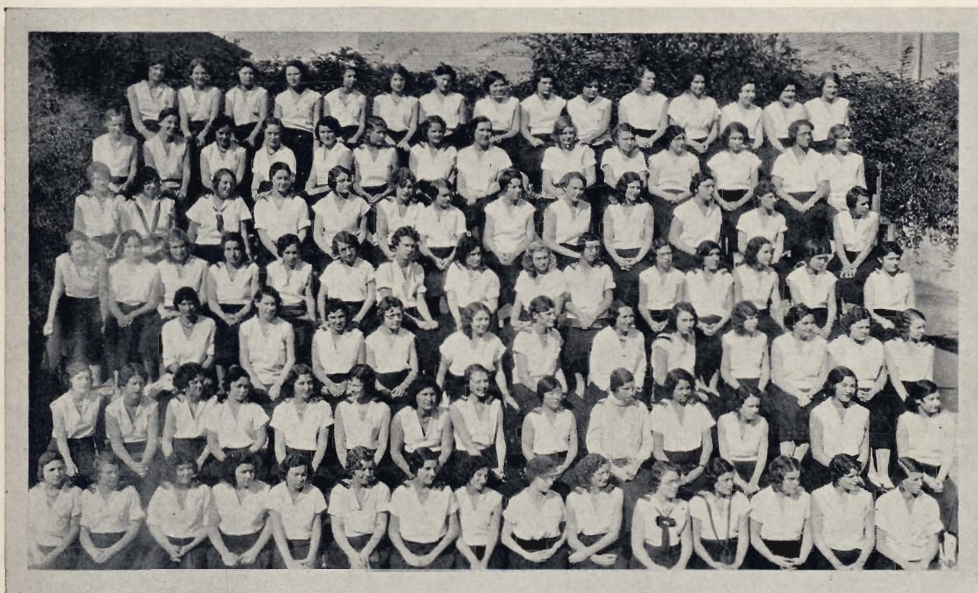

In athletics the class is very well represented. There was a large turnout for every sport and consequently many of the students have earned Block "L's". Fifteen or twenty Sophomores reported for football practice last fall and many more appeared for spring practice. John Daly, Galen Stouder, Clifford Knee, Homer Wolfe, and Cooper played football on the "A" team.

Basketball claimed fifteen members of the class who played hard for both the "A" and "B" teams. Those who played on the "A" team are Gustave Bredy, John Daly, Frank Graffigna, and Galen Stouder. On the "B" team of basketball were Bill Jauch, Kenneth Bertsch, Richard Cooper, Vincent Soucie, and John Koehler.

The Sophomores have shown their ability in track and field events, while a few have turned aquatic and made the swimming teams. The girls of the class have had good teams in basketball, hockey, baseball, swimming, and tennis.

Music has attracted many. Nineteen Sophomores are in the band and orchestra and twenty in the chorus.

In the band there are Ralph Isbill, Leonard Day, Kenneth Hepper, Wesley Dunton, Charlotte Dugdale, Gladys Seibel, Myra Bohnet, Bernice Smith, Edwin Gholz, Bob Fountain, Bob Moore, Eleanore Koenig, Elberon Stevens, Joseph Siegfried, Walter Howen, Herbert Ritzmann, Arnold Duerksen, and Charles McClelland.

In the music contest on April fifteenth several Sophomores placed first and second. In the "B" class Kenneth Hepper took second place in the trumpet section, Evelyn Hefley was first and Charlotte Dugdale was second in the clarinet section. In the "A" class Ralph Isbill placed second in the trumpet section, Gladys Seibel was second for piano playing and Elberon Stevens placed second in the woodwind section.

A large number of Sophomores who are taking agriculture courses belong to the Ag Club. Many of them have been on judging teams.

Although there are a few Sophomores in the Scholarship Federation a great many pupils have needed but one grade to join. There are quite a few members of the class on the "Flame" staff.

The Sophomore girls have shown their dramatic art in the many plays they have presented before the Girls' Association. "Dr. Pill-Box Scores" is one that they presented. Those taking part were Charlotte Dugdale, Bernice Smith, Marjorie Field, Dorothea Lange, Jane Keller, Patricia Mason, and Dorothea Godfrey.

Freshman Class

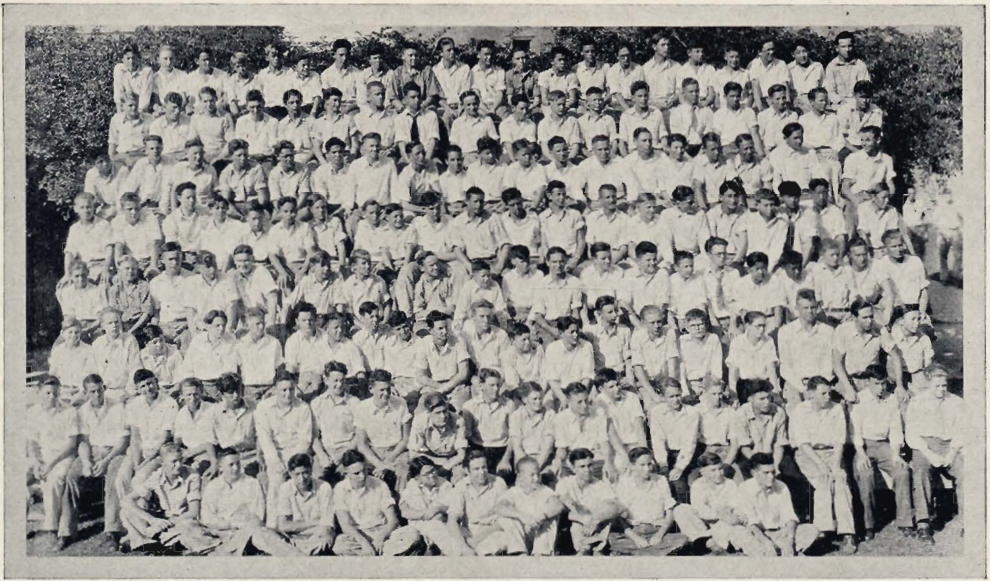

THE eighth day of September, 1931, three hundred twenty-six frightened and inexperienced freshmen with their grammar school diplomas tucked under their arms entered the Lodi Union High School to compete in the great race for the prize—graduation from high school.

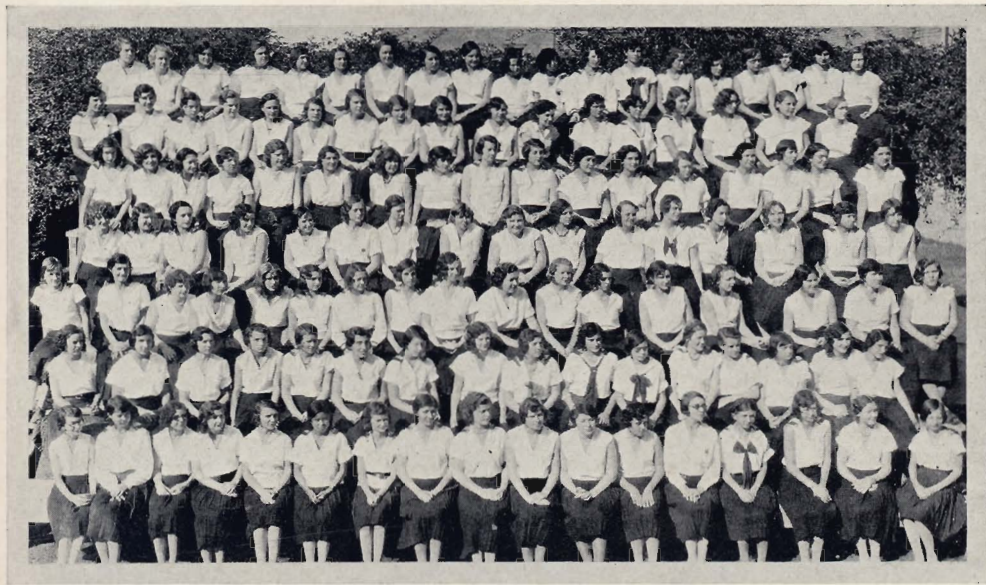

Thus far the Class of '35 has completed one-fourth the race, and is eager to finish the remaining three-fourths as quickly and successfully as possible. The class has accomplished much and is impatient to accomplish still more.

Irene Heindl and Betty Chow have been successful in securing for the Freshman girls the doubles championship in tennis. Grace Baldwin was the only Freshman girl going out for swimming and has proved very excellent, while Betty Chow, Eileen Franklin, and Louella Shaw have done much to promote the success of the class in other athletics for girls.

The boys who have shown prowess in athletics are Nat Morton, tennis; Jules Perrin, football; Elton Cencirulo, Dale Rathbun, and Edwin Kiemele, swimming; Lyle Rapalee, Oliver Archer, Bruce Addington, and Thomas Leech, track; and Oliver Archer and Lyle Rapalee, basketball. Jay Loveless was the only Freshman to be sufficiently successful to make the dairy products judging team. The Class of '35 is very proud of Grace Baldwin, Anna

The thirty-nine students who entered in February have increased the original number to three hundred sixty-five. With such numbers the Class of '35 should do much to bring honor upon its alma mater. — Jane Hargis.

WE FRESHMEN

The Freshmen aren't so very good,
 Nor yet so very bad.
 Making the upper classmen "hump"
 Is our most cherished fad.

We're fairly good in swimming, nor
 In tennis did we fall.
 I guess that we are pretty safe
 In any free-for-all.

Of course we pulled some "boners" rare,
 Which we hope all will forget.
 And if we work with utmost care
 We'll acquire that wise look yet.

— Betty Chow.
