FOOTBALL

Playing their second year under the big night-lights the Flames turned out one of the fastest and best blocking teams ever to play under the Red and White of Lodi High.

Led by Captain Roscoe Shaw playing at tackle, the Lodians swamped a large number of their opponents. The Flames suffered only one defeat at the hands of a high school team, Richmond High defeating the Flames in the first game of the season. This defeat was washed away later in the season, however, by Lodi's decisive victory over Santa Rosa, North Coast champions.

Seiferling, Okazaki, Mondavi, and Rolf Hagen formed a backfield which can be justly called the Four Horsemen of Northern California. Combining speed with power, and using deception along with well timed passes, they proved to be more than a match for the visiting teams.

Captain Shaw, Okazaki, Moore, and Hagen were named on every all-sectional team. McClure and Mondavi were named on most of the sectional teams.

Too much honor cannot be given Coach Barney Hagen and his assistants for their work in turning out one of the finest squads Lodi has had.

LODI, 0 — RICHMOND, 14

Lodi started her season on September 25 in a very unsuccessful manner by losing a 0-14 affair at Richmond. This score, however, did not indicate the true strength of the teams, as Lodi held the upper hand for over half the game. A long runback of a punt and a quick march while Lodi was still off balance spelled defeat for Lodi.

LODI, 25 — SAN JOSE, 0

Good use of interference and well timed blocking were responsible for the 25-0 score of Lodi over San Jose on October 2. Seiferling, fleet quarter, started the show, aided by clever blocking, by running 75 yards to score late in the first period. The fact that the Flames took advantage of breaks and used well-timed power-plays, along with Okazaki's twisting runs, produced the remaining scores of the game.

LODI, 26 — WOODLAND, 18

Hindered by sickness and injuries, the Flames had a hard time taking a 26-18 battle from the Wolves on October 10. Sammy Diggs, colored flash of the Northerners, gave the Lodians no end of trouble with his quick, shifty runs. Mondavi, Lodi fullback, was the star of the game, however, and he battered the Wolves' line to shreds in scoring two of Lodi's touchdowns and making the others possible. Rolf Hagen, playing defensive fullback, was outstanding for Lodi on defense, as was also Captain Roscoe Shaw.

LODI, 28 — SACRAMENTO, 0

A slow start, but a finish of tremendous power and blinding speed, spelled defeat for the visiting Dragons in the first league game on October 16.

The Lodi defense had trouble in solving the Sacramento system of play throughout the first quarter, but early in the second quarter Lodi shoved the ball over after Sacramento lost it on downs deep in her own territory.

From this point on Lodi had little trouble in running up three more scores, two on shifty runs by Okazaki and one on a power drive from mid-field. Hagen was outstanding in his blocking, especially in clearing the way for the start of Okazaki's runs, while Wittmayer played an outstanding game at guard.

It was in this Dragon game that the Flames first showed that wonderful teamwork which was destined to make football history for Lodi.

LODI, 22 — MODESTO, 7

After a bad start, the Flames came from behind to humble the Modestans by a 22 to 7 score on October 30. A Lodi fumble within her own ten-yard line paved the way for Modesto's score shortly after the opening kick-off.

N. S. C. I. F. CHAMPIONS

Moore, Brentlinger, Hoff, A. Cooper, Crete

Lodi, however, was not to be disheartened, and the Flames scored late in the first quarter and remained in control, except for a few minutes in the third period, for the remainder of the game.

Seiferling scored the second touchdown for the Flames on a jaunt from the Modesto 35 marker late in the second quarter. Modesto made her threat late in the third quarter on a series of passes which advanced the ball to the Lodi seven-yard line. McClure, Lodi center, put an end to all Modesto hopes, when he intercepted a pass and, due to perfect blocking by fellow-players, ran ninety-three yards to a touchdown. A safety gave Lodi the remaining points during the first part of the fourth quarter. The entire backfield, along with McClure, Hoff and Shaw in the line, showed up exceptionally well in this game.

LODI, 6—STOCKTON, 0

Hindered because of a damp, sloppy field on November 13, the Flames were unable to make their speed attack function. A power march down the field, plus a quick stab through the air, was responsible for the Lodi victory. Clever blocking, good receiving and accurate passing brought six points to the Flames.

Mondavi carried the ball from mid-field to the Stockton 20 on a series of line bucks. At this point Seiferling dropped back and tossed a well-timed pass to Okazaki who, aided by Cooper's blocking out of two men, scored standing up. This was the only score of the game, and the remainder of the battle was fought almost entirely in mid-field.

Alustiza, fullback of the Tarzans, who had battered all other opposing lines to shreds, was unable to make any headway through Lodi's forward wall, which, backed by the sterling Rolf Hagen, refused to allow the Tarzan backs any liberties whatsoever.

N. S. C. I. F. CHAMPIONS

Cencirulo, Anderson, McClure, Seibel [manager], Wittmayer, Runnels

Hagen seemed to see through all attempts at deception and was the outstanding defensive man of the day. The entire team played clever head-up football throughout the game and, had it not been for their handicap (a light team on a slippery field), would have, beyond a doubt, won by a much larger score. Cooper, Shaw, and Cencirulo, pint-sized guard, along with the rest, performed exceptionally well on offense, nearly equalling Rolf Hagen in blocking.

Seiferling is to be congratulated on his handling of the team, and, along with Okazaki, he was outstanding in his defense against forward passes.

Six games won out of nine games played is Lodi's record in the annual "Big Game" of the year with Stockton, and with Barney Hagen and Matsuo Okazaki back behind the guns next year, there should be another Lodi victory.

LODI, 27—SANTA ROSA, 14

Taking advantage of every opportunity which presented itself, the Flames defeated the visiting Panthers in a charity game on the afternoon of November 28 by a 27-14 score.

These chances were few against the hard-hitting football which the visiting stalwarts produced, but so well did Lodi grasp these opportunities that every man in the backfield scored. Okazaki started things with a weaving sixty-eight-yard run made possible through his own ability and his teammates' well-timed interference. This initial score came early in the second quarter, and before the quarter had ended Lodi scored again in a full drive ending with a twenty-eight-yard jaunt by Seiferling which ended the first half's scoring.

The Santa Rosans, champions of the North Coast C. I. F. for two years, did not admit defeat without a game battle, however, and early in the third quarter the Panther captain, Hood, went around end for a fifty-two-yard gallop to score.

The Flames took the kick-off and ended the visitors' hopes for outscoring the speedy Grape-center boys, however, by scoring on a series of line bucks and end runs, along with two well-timed Seiferling-to-Okazaki passes. With the scores 21-7, Santa Rosa took to the air, and made her last score on a long pass which made the Panther's hopes seem brighter.

Late in the final stanza, backed up against their own goal line, the visitors heaved a long pass, which was intercepted by Rolf Hagen, who ran thirty yards for a score.

Fisher, a heavy, powerfully built fellow, smashed through the Flames' line almost at will during the first quarter and gave the lighter Flame team no end of trouble throughout the entire game. The visitors made fourteen first downs to Lodi's nine, but the Flames stood on the long end of the score by a mere 13 points, and that, at the present time, is the method of determining the winner.

These outstanding teams, one having weight, power and a hard-running attack, against the blocking, clever open-field running and smoother teamwork of a lighter team, were principals in a game full of football thrills from start to finish.

LODI, 18 — RED BLUFF, 13

Long, shifty runs, excellent punting and a stubborn defense, along with master blocking, were the factors responsible for Lodi's 18-13 victory over Red Bluff for the Northern C. I. F. championship on December 5.

FIRST TEAM SUBS

Robertson, Schmiedt, Sherman, Eproson, Daly, Perrin — Knee, Engel, Holmes, C. Cooper, Stouder, Wolf

Red Bluff can be justly hailed as the greatest prep team ever to come out of the North and challenge the Central section's football supremacy. A hard-hitting attack, combined with well-timed passing, made the "big guns" of the Harlan Lee coached team. The margin by which they missed carrying back to the North her first Northern C. I. F. championship can be more greatly appreciated when it is known that only seconds were left in the first half when the deciding play of the game started.

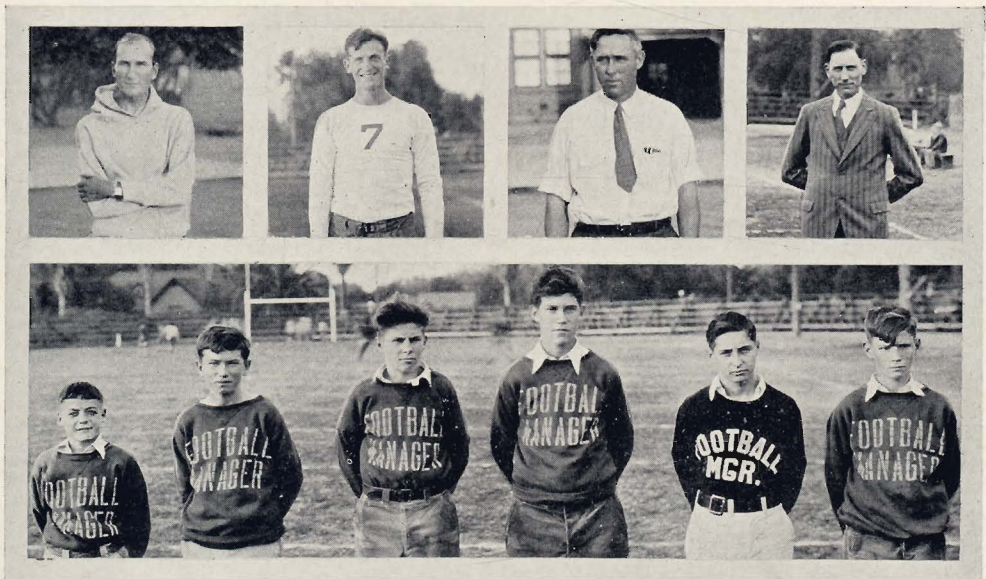

Red Bluff had just scored her second touchdown, making the score 13-12 in her favor, and Lodi chose to receive. Seiferling took the ball and, with a brilliant change of pace, ran ninety-three yards to a touchdown, the deciding and last score of the game.

Okazaki, as usual, started the game with a twisting run for a sixty-yard jaunt to score. This score was made possible through Crete's taking out of the last man and paving a way for the flying midget. The other score was made through Seiferling's hard running and Mondavi's line bucking, while both of Red Bluff's scores came from the air, with Frank Freitas doing the hurling.

The visiting Northerners also used an end-around play which functioned far too often for Lodi's comfort. Dray, Red Bluff fullback, and Mondavi, Lodi's welter-weight wonder, vied for power-play honors of the day, with neither seeming to gain supremacy.

Rolf Hagen featured with his usual smooth blocking, while Shaw, Lodi captain, and L. Freitas, mammoth visiting tackle, turned in excellent game in the line.

Lodi's quarter and hero of the day, Seiferling, was forced to leave the game late in the third quarter because of a leg injury, and his absence handicapped the Flames to a great extent throughout the remainder of the game.

Second Team

Following closely in their brothers' footsteps, the second team enjoyed its most successful season for a number of years. Coached by Verne Hoffman, this team, among other victories, defeated the Stockton Seconds three times, took Mount Diablo by a 7-0 count and swamped the Roseville Seconds by a 33-0 score.

They also played Ione, defeating them by a 7-0 score. In the annual Armistice game with the Placerville A team, the B squad were bested in experience and weight, factors which they could not overcome.

Outstanding on this year's second team were Captain Sato, center; Clifton Cooper and Lind, ends; Berner, Bischel, Thiel, and Unternaher, in the backfield; Thompson and Pope, at guards, and Irey, at tackle.

Nearly all of these boys have one or more years of football left, and from them will the future football machines of Lodi High be built. Inexperienced but willing, young but husky, and wrong in many ways but willing to learn, these boys are splendid material for coming years.

A large amount of credit should also go to Assistant Coaches Crandall and Abbott, who gave willingly a large amount of their time toward the development of this team. Mr. Crandall will have full command of the second team next year, as this year's coach, Mr. Hoffman, is to be head basketball coach next year.

Basketball

CLASS A

The basketball team suffered one of the worst seasons ever experienced at Lodi High. This was partly due to the fact that they were unable to start practicing until the second week in December. Lack of good material was also a very prominent reason for the past season's failure. This failure should be responsible, however, for all of the good players in Lodi High reporting for practice in 1932-'33.

The boys displayed fight at all times, but seemed to lack that finishing touch which is the mark of a good basketball team. Teamwork was also very scarce in this year's Flame team, and it is hoped that co-operation will be the key to success in future years.

Biff Hoffman, who coached the 1931-'32 B squad, will be head coach next year, and intends to start practicing in September. This should be a decided improvement over the past year, as Barney Hagen was kept busy by football until December 5.

Daly was the outstanding player on this year's squad and along with Captain-elect Doug Engel, should form a strong defense upon which to build the 1932-'33 team.

Hoffman [coach], Rapalee, Pope, Birch, Meidinger, Cooper — Spooner, Jauch, Sanguinetti, Cooley, Walther

Basketball

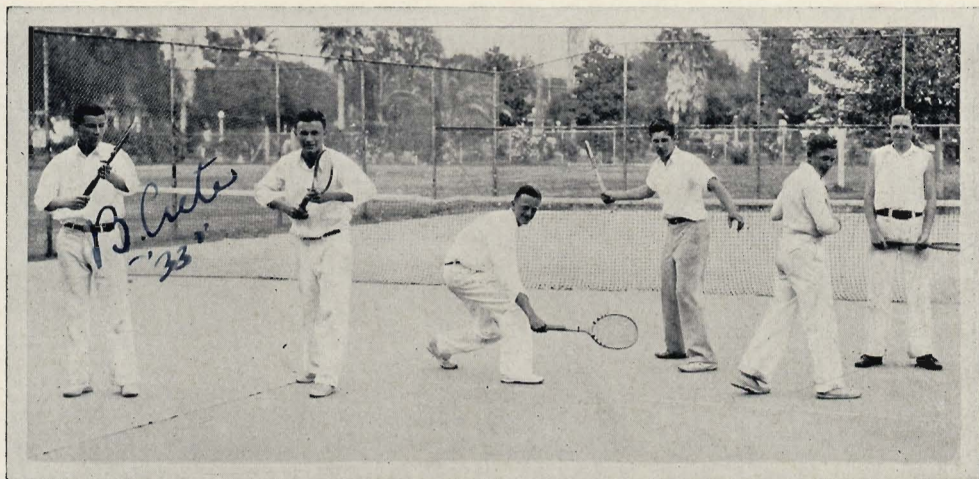

CLASS B

Led by Captain Jimmy Sanguinetti, the Class B basketball team enjoyed a far more successful season than did their big brothers, the Unlimited.

Using a speed attack most of the time, they won half of their league games and most of their non-league encounters. The only team which defeated the B's in a way which left no argument was the league-leading Blues from Stockton. The superior height and experience of Stockton gave them an advantage which Lodi couldn't overcome.

Outstanding on this year's team were Captain Sanguinetti, guard; Bill Spooner and Rolly Waithers, high-scoring forwards, and the ever reliable Bill Jauch at center, while R. Cooper showed up well in the last few games of the season.

Verne Hoffman, B coach, certainly turned out a fine team for his first year of basketball coaching at Lodi. Flame supporters are hoping that he will enjoy even more success when he takes over the reins next fall as Lodi's head basketball coach.

Bill Crete, Charles Crete, Bill Spooner, Nat Morton, Howard Morton, Rowland Walther

Tennis

The Flame racketers experienced a rather disappointing season, but as a number of the players are Sophomores and Juniors, better times seem to be just around the corner.

Captain Charles Crete and Rowland Walther, playing No. 1 and No. 2 man respectively, were the only members of the squad to win their Block I. Bill Spooner, Howard Morton, Bill Crete, and Nat Morton, playing No. 3, No. 4, No. 5, and No. 6 man in the order named, also turned out some good tennis but seemed to lack, perhaps through inexperience, the poise and evenness of playing ability which is acquired by the seasoned tennis player. All of the last named boys, however, with the exception of Bill Spooner, will return next year and with added experience gained between seasons, should be formidable opponents for any high school team.

Most of these players are developing fast, especially Nat Morton, and their true worth is rather difficult to estimate until they reach the highest tennis ability they are capable of.

Seiferling, Hoops, Daly, Brentlinger, Gilbeau, Bredy, C. Cooper, A. Cooper, Stotz, Coach B. Hagen, Thiel, Tangretto, R. Cooper, Koehler, Rapalec, Meidinger, Manager Corda

Track

Only two men—and they were Class B athletes—placed in the Northern Section C. I. F. track meet.

The team did, however, shine brilliantly in individual performance on several occasions. Al and Clifford Cooper turned out some excellent work in the javelin, Al's best throw being 168 feet ten inches, and Clifford's 154 feet. The Cooper brothers placed first and second in the order named in the sub-sectional meet. Claire Hopkins jumped 5 feet 10 inches at the first of the season but was unable to place in the Northern Section track meet. Clarence Gilbeau turned in some fast 440 time, while Bob Hoopes was the Flame's best bet in the 880 and mile. The remaining L winners in track were Seiferling, who turned in one 100 in 10:1, and Gus Bredy, who reached 5 feet 7 inches in the high jump.

In Class B, Johnnie Koehler and Athneil Thiel both placed in the Northern Section C. I. F. meet, Koehler taking first in the 160 low hurdles, and Thiel picking up a third in the football throw. Koehler, by virtue of placing first in the Northern Section C. I. F., is entitled to a sweater, but being the first Lodi Class B athlete to win a first in the Northern section, he had not been given any award when the "Tokay" went to press. The other Class B athlete of ability was Bruce Addington, who placed third in the high jump in the sub-sectional.

Swimming

CLASS A

The Flame thinclads enjoyed a most successful swimming season. Lodi succeeded in taking second place in the sectional meet.

Outstanding on this year's team were Klaffke, the class of the high school distance swimmers, and Filler, who was the section's outstanding diver. Klaffke, besides winning both the 220 and the 440 in the sectional, established a new record of 5:50.1 for the Northern Section C. I. F. in the 440. Both men won sweaters by virtue of their sectional wins and as both of these boys are Juniors great things are expected of them next year.

Other nearly sure point winners were Mondavi, dash man; R. Cencirulo, distance star; and Wesley Pope in the dives. Lodi's strongest breaststroke man was Wolfe, while Lange handled the backstroke.

CLASS B

The Class B swimmers lacked the experience of the Class A men, but they succeeded in making a fairly good season's showing. Erle Wright and Elton Cencirulo in the backstroke, Albert Lind in the dashes, and James Kreis in the dives all turned in some good performances, while Tramontini and Moore picked up a large number of points throughout the season. These boys are nearly all lower classmen and their ever-developing ability will make them good timber for coming A teams.

Volley Ball

On September 6, fifty-nine enthusiastic girls signed up for volley ball. After five nights of hard practice for each team, the big games were held between October 5 and October 9. The Juniors, by winning the Junior-Senior game and the Sophomore-Junior game, were awarded first place. Although the Seniors had the disadvantage of having the fewest players, they came out second. The Sophomores took third, and the Freshmen, fourth.

The Juniors and Freshmen had enough girls out to have second teams. The Junior Seconds easily defeated the Freshman Seconds, thereby taking fifth place.

The players were:

Seniors—El Boneta Bull (captain), Evelyn Pope, Edith McKenzie, Margaret Thompson, Betty Jean Ashley, Gladys Strobel, Erna Fetzer, Emma Lou Polenske, Clovis Michels. Substitute: Gladys Schomo.

Hockey

In hockey, the championship went to the Seniors. The Sophomores took second place and the Juniors third, leaving fourth for the Freshmen.

After the two lower classes had played their game of November 6, which ended with a score of 4-0 in favor of the Sophomores, and the upper classes had played their game on November 7, with a score of 2-0 in favor of the Seniors, the most exciting and hardest battle was yet to be fought. The two winning teams played hard and furious to the very end. No one could tell until the whistle blew just who would win. The final score was 3-2 in favor of the Seniors. The players were:

Seniors—Erna Fetzer (captain), Evelyn Pope, Emma Lou Polenske, Edith McKenzie, Julia Dean, Marcella Thorp, Gladys Strobel, Betty Jean Ashley, Leone Huber, El Boneta Bull, Margaret Thompson. Substitutes: Gladys Schomo, Elizabeth Campbell.

Girls' Basketball

Basketball, a very popular sport among the girls, came to an end on January 28.

To the amazement of all, the Sophomores were winners. The Juniors came in second, which put the Seniors down to third place and the Freshmen to fourth. Junior and Freshman second teams placed fifth and sixth, while the Freshman third team came in last. The players were:

Senior — Forwards: Gladys Strobel (captain), Evelyn Pope; guards: Edith McKenzie, Erna Fetzer; centers: Clovis Michels, Betty Jean Ashley. Substitutes: Emma Lou Polenske, Margaret Thompson, Gladys Schomo.

Baseball

As all the girls' baseball teams were about equal in strength, there was much competition among them.

The Freshman-Sophomore game of April 11 ended with a score of 14-22 in favor of the Sophomores.

The Seniors, only through very hard work, won the game with the Juniors on April 12.

In the final game between the winners of the first two games, the Seniors were ahead until almost the last inning, when the Sophomores decided that they were going to win. They did win, by the close score of 10-6, which gave them first place.

The game of the losing teams, Freshmen and Juniors, was won by the former.

In the last game the Freshmen and Seniors fought hard to win the title of second place. The Seniors came out victorious with a score of 8-2.

The final results were: Sophomores, first; Seniors, second; Freshmen, third, and Juniors, fourth.

The players were:

Senior—El Boneta Bull (captain), Gladys Strobel, Louise Houck, Mildred Groft, Cleola Schatz, Ella Strother, Dolores Handel, Zelma Burson, Rowena Happe.

Junior—Florence Barsotti, Maurine Smith, Lois Emde (captain), Viola Debrick, Leona Ackerman, Marjorie Harney, Ruth Jacobsen, Rose Davis, Mary Rathbun. Substitute: Barbara Newman.

Tennis

The tennis ladder system was again used this year.

In the singles, the final results gave Winifred Wilkinson (Junior), first place; Bernice Harshner (Senior), second place; Louella Shaw (Freshman), third place; Charlotte Dugdale (Sophomore), fourth place.

In doubles, Irene Heindl and Vira Jane Clow (Freshmen) received first place, Dorothy Harshner and Margaret Blakely (Juniors), second place; Marcella Thorp and Robinette Fisher (Seniors), third place, and Helen Godfrey and Pauline Marshall (Sophomores), fourth place.

YOUTH'S PRAYER

Oh, God Apollo,
Help me now,
The young man prayed
And low did bow,
Before the God Apollo.
Oh give me health
And give me strength
And give me speed
To run the length
The quickest, God Apollo.
And when I've won,
Oh, god above,
Pray give me faith
And give me love
Throughout my life, Apollo.
Oh, God Apollo,
Make me wise
With health and
Wealth and enterprise
To lead men, God Apollo.
