Lodi Chapter No. 1, Future Farmers of America, has completed a very successful school year. One hundred twenty-one students enrolled in the Agriculture Department were members of the chapter. The officers were Cecil McKindley, president; Albert James, vice president; Fred Clasen, secretary; Verne Hoffman, Jr., treasurer; Vernon Mettler, and Oliver Baumbach, reporters.

Lodi chapter members made creditable exhibits at both the County and State fairs, winning $750.00 in premiums. At the Interstate Livestock Show in South San Francisco, Lodi boys sold $2650.00 worth of livestock and won $200.00 in prizes. Frank Jacinto showed the F. F. A. champion pen of lambs.

Lodi was also successful in her judging process, winning third place in Picnic Day sweepstakes, placing first in agronomy and entomology, second in trees and agricultural mechanics and third in weeds. Verne Hoffman, Jr., was high in agronomy and Chester Randolph in entomology. William Kiriu was second in agricultural mechanics.

Three Lodi boys were also advanced to the degree of State Farmer, the highest award a boy can win in the state: Albert James, Verne Hoffman, Jr., and Ernest Gribaudo.

The Lodi Chapter gave Future Farmer emblems as awards to its three outstanding students: Verne Hoffman, Jr., Albert James, and Fred Clasen at its annual Father and Son banquet.

Outstanding programs of the year were the Father and Son banquet, the Valentine party, the barbeque, the Livestock Show, and an assembly for the Student Body. Altogether, the Agricultural Department had a very successful year.
