Equal Rights For Women

The Girls' League plays an important role in the yearly events of Mariposa High. As in other organizations, many of the activities had to be eliminated.

The War Stamp sales, a new activity, was expertly taken over by the girls and of course, the students responded very enthusiastically.

By way of a social season, the girls really buckled down and showed the boys a good time at the Backward Party. With the coming of spring and May, the new officers for the new year were installed, and the girls were once more hostesses at the Mothers' and Daughters' Tea.

To Assemble Peaceably

The Boys' Federation was one of the few inactive organizations of our school during the year. The war practically curtailed its activities for the year.

The only business passed by the Federation was the donating of money toward the purchase of sweaters for our eligible athletes.

Freedom Of Research

The CSF started off the year with only four members, but by the admittance of ten new novitiates, this figure increased to fourteen at the end of the first semester.

The year's activities began with a buffet dinner and party at the home of their adviser, Miss Eckern. The financial condition was discussed and due to the curtailment of the annual CSF play, a food sale was held in February, which netted the society a large profit.

The main activity of the year was the revising of the ten-year-old constitution. This year, due to present conditions, the Federation was unable to take the three-day trip and instead, held a picnic in Merced.

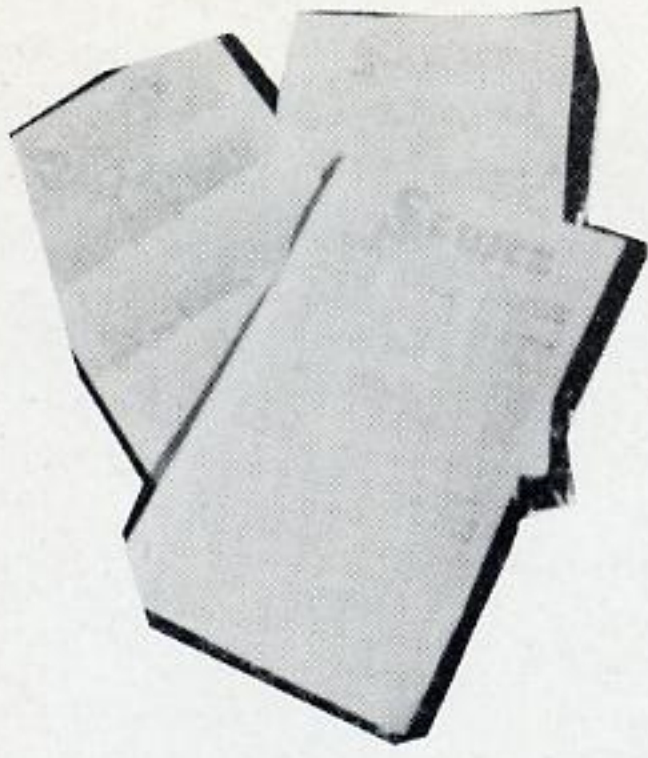

FIRST ROW—B. Brockman, A. Turner, M. Hatcher, F. Clark, R. Silva, SECOND ROW—Miss Eckern, Adviser, G. Sanchez, J. Townsley, A. Schottky, B. Beatty.

Freedom Of Press

The feminine editors of the Sluice and their staffs have done a very fine job of "scooping" the news and getting the paper out on time.

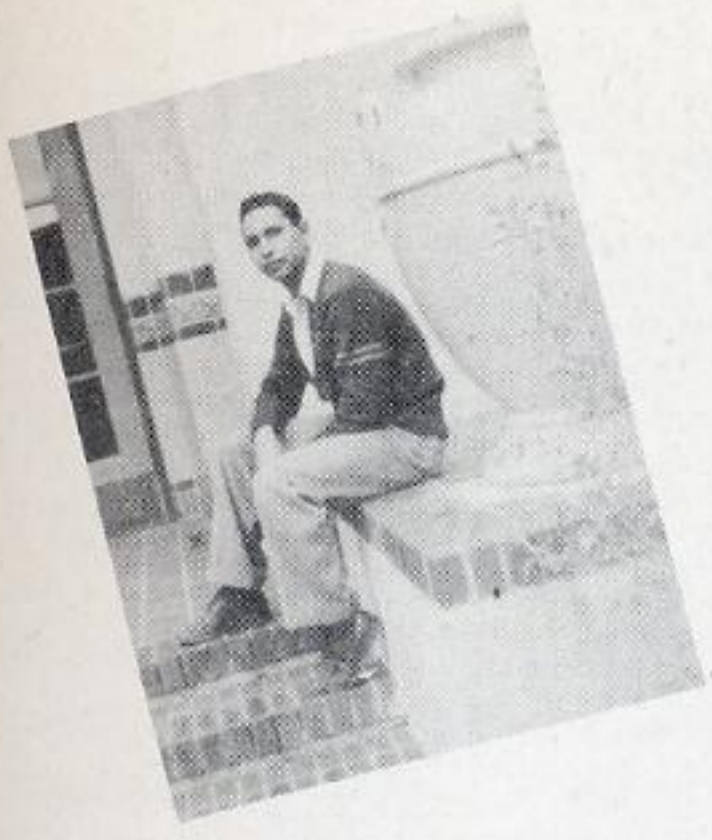

It has been the aim of the Sluice to give you the news in a clean sportsmanlike manner, as we are sure you would wish Mariposa High news interpreted to the public.

In addition to providing the students with a weekly paper, the staff mailed copies to all former students now in the armed forces. This was made possible through the cooperation of students in furnishing addresses and through the financial support of the administration.

“... Of The People, By The People,
And For The People...”

We might properly entitle this volume “The Trials and Tribulations of an Annual Staff”, for it was certainly a year of trials and tribulations for us.

Materials were difficult to obtain and many substitutions had to be made. No photographer was available, so we took the only alternative, as the Editor, aided by the Assistant Editor, assumed the position of photographer.

In spite of our many adversities, we had—in the words of our Assistant Editor—“many a hairy ole time” and finally saw the yearbook through to a successful conclusion when we came back from San Francisco, where we visited A. Carlisle and Company, our lithographers, with the yearbook tucked safely under our arms.

Creative Expression

"Through all the drama—whether dam'd or not, Love gilds the scene and woman guides the plot."—Sheridan, "The Rivals."

A small class of inexperienced five took over the year's entertainment for assemblies with much doubt. The dramatic interlude began with the annual Christmas play—"Three Wise Men Ride By"—the sad, but beautiful story of a Mender of Shoes, portrayed by Gilbert Sanchez, supported by Rosalie Hargrove, Agnes Lariviere, Royal Peck, Freddie Lariviere, Jean Kirk, Arnold Matschke, and Georgianna Hull.

Later in the year, a short skit, "Women in White," was presented at the Parish House. Those who participated in it were: Agnes Lariviere, Elaine Murray, Carolyn Murray, Dixie Bertken, Mary Hatcher, Rosalie Hargrove, and Thelma Thomas. It was given for the Student Body at a later date.

In preparation for the Senior Production, two one-act plays—"Make Up and Live" and "A Sisterly Scheme"—were presented at assemblies.

Gail Daugherty, Mr. Morpeth; James Wass, Mr. Brown; Elaine Murray, Pauline Belton; Thelma Thomas, Flossy Belton; Agnes Lariviere, Mrs. Melley; June Brown, Miss Redington.

Elaine Murray, Irene Flanagan; Thelma Thomas, Mrs. Finch; June Brown, Phyllis Smith; June Alexander, Minnie Maxwell; Mary Hatcher, Elsie Dunham; Agnes Lariviere, Mona Lambert; Rosalie Hargrove, Grace Connor.

“ . . . Hearts Resolved In Victory Or Death . . . ”

The Mariposa High School Band is a high school course and an activity. It is a representative of the Student Body at football games and assemblies. This year there were only fifteen members in the band.

Of special interest and the object of much favorable comment was the program presented by the band when it joined Gil's Orchestra in the Annual Quiz Show to present a program of popular music.

The band was directed by Mr. Roy E. Butler.

Individual Enterprise

“Gil’s Orchestra” gave us a year of sweet and hot music at all the school parties, at the Annual Quiz Show, and at the Senior Play. A new-set style was used by these young “hep cats,” which was organized and led by Gilbert Sanchez, an old member of the “Nick de Poplis Orchestra.”

“A Land Of Merriment And Song”

Under the direction of Miss Yates, the Glee Club contributed greatly to the entertainment of the school year—at assemblies, P.-T. A. and program. An added attraction this year was the teaching of the piano to all the Glee girls. This was possible because of the small number of girls.
