

JOKES

Joke?

Note: Please write all jokes dropped into next year's Gat box on tissue paper, so the editors can see through them.

A woodpecker sat on a freshman's head, and pecked away with a will; he pecked and pecked a half a day, and finally broke his bill.

If you are thirsty, lift up the mattress and you will find a spring there.

In case of fire, run to the window and watch the fire escape.

If you see the pillow slip on the bed spring, use glue which is on the table.

Dorothy C.—Is it true that you can see stars in the daytime from the bottom of a well?

Her Man—It all depends on how you get there.

Pipe Down

Captain—Stop smoking. Can't you see we're becalmed?

Ed Dunne—What's smoking got to do with it?

Captain—It's bad for the wind.

Personal Observation

Carroll Cole—Funny how a fat woman always feels bigger than she looks.

Vera Lindsey—Who told you that?

C. C.—Nobody. I danced with one last night.

Tut, Tut!

Jean S.—My hair is a wreck.

Les H.—No wonder. You left the switches open.

Claire S.—Did that rich uncle of yours leave many heirlooms?

Jack M.—I should say so. A new heir looms up almost every week.

Helen Westgate (on board the S. F. steamer)—Captain, don't you think it's cruel to box the compass?

Skipper Joe—Not any more than to paddle a canoe.

Cold Facts

"Prof." Corbett (in chem.)—When two bodies come together violently they generate heat.

Allen Wilson—Not always; I hit a guy once and he knocked me cold.

Here, Too!

First Officer—Did you get that fellow's number?

Second Officer—No; he was going too fast.

First Officer—Say, that was a fine looking dame in the car.

Second Officer—Wasn't she?

"Now, sir," she commanded, "look me in the face and deny if you dare that you married me for money?"

He raised his eyes until they were directed to her countenance, and faltered,

"Well, I think I earned the cash; don't you, dear?"

Free Show

Carlton Wilcox—Say, wot're you following me around for? Didn't you ever see the likes o' me before?

Small Boy—Yes, but I had to pay a quarter.

Another Foolish Question

Dwight Potter—Does your girl get angry if she's interrupted while talking?

"Maggie" McGee—How should I know.

Meta Physical

Bob B.—Why the absent look?

Margie R.—Oh, I'm looking for someone who isn't here.

Famous Sayings

Adam—It's a great life if you don't weaken.

Samson—I'm strong for you, kid.

Plutarch—I am sorry that I have no more lives to give for my country.

Jonah—You can't keep a good man down.

Cleopatra—You're an easy Mark, Tony.

David—The bigger they are, the harder they fall.

Helen of Troy—So this is Paris.

Columbus—I don't know where I'm going, but I'm on my way.

Nero—Keep the home fires burning.

Solomon—I love the ladies.

Noah—It floats.

Methuselah—The first hundred years are the hardest.

A Good Spring

Vivian Uren—I hear that hilltop burglar ran down at the sound of the gun.

Ray—Yes, but the police managed to wind him up.

The Pen Is Mightier

The Tramp—Yes, I was five years in the pen.

Eddie Libhart—That's some period!

The Tramp—That's no period; that's a sentence.

So Careless of Her

Mother (knocking at the bedroom door)—Eight o'clock! Eight o'clock!

Beth Doane (sleepily)—Did you? Better call a doctor.

Quick Mending

Anne Ashley—Is that a watch in your vest pocket that makes such a noise?

Injured Half-back—No, only a couple of ribs knitting.

Wasting Opportunity

Gilbert Curtis—Did you notice the girl's head that Agnes was drawing in history class?

Pete Snyder—No; I'm afraid I was asleep most of the time.

Gilbert Curtis—Huh! Lots of good you get out of that class.

Why Shouldn't It?

Tom Roberts—Isn't it wonderful to see such a volume of water dashing over the falls?

Charlotte Eckstrom—I don't think so. There's nothing to stop it.

Meaning?

Clarence Clemenson—What do you think of my dancing pumps?

Gene Ryant—My dear, they're immense.

The Wrong Symptoms

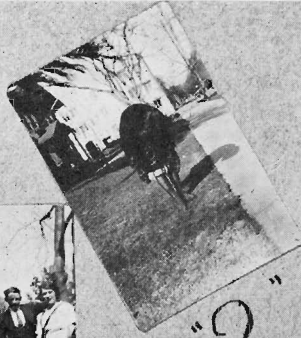

Wilber Kelling—Do you believe that love causes a loss of appetite?

Lloyd Wood—I've often heard it said.

W. K.—Then I think I'll break my engagement to Blanche. I took her out to dinner last night.

Women may be puzzles, but men are not willing to give them up.

WHAT'S-ALL-THIS

TAKE-IT-QUICK

"I can't thread this needle, ma,"

Was little Esther's cry,
"Just as the thread is going through,
The needle winks its eye."

Miss Osborn—We hear of certain sayings being chestnuts. Now, Carroll, what is a chestnut?

Carroll Cole—A chestnut is a coconut's little brother with his whiskers shaved off.

Quick At Figures

"Young Pop"—I got fifty per cent on my intelligence test.

Flora—Yeh; that makes you a half-wit; doesn't it?

Pop Garrison—So you broke a chair over this freshman's head!

Francis Blix—I didn't mean to break the chair, sir.

Old Pal of Mine

You've stuck to me just like a tick,
You've made my time worth while;
In fact, it almost makes me sick
(I find it hard to smile)
Each second I shall miss your hand,
I've grown to like your face;
You've been a jewel—understand?
I think I have a case.
But the best of friends must say adieu,
No matter how it hurts.
Good-bye, my Elgin. Au revoir!
I have to buy some shirts!

Both Going and Coming

Fred Spooner—You refuse me then? Well, there are others; you know.

Nadine Colestock—Oh my, yes. I accepted one of them this afternoon; you know.

"That hound's not worth a scent" said the rabbit as he climbed the tree.

At Least

"Leave me with a smile," murmured the victim as the yegg frisked his clothes.

Willing to Assist

Colored Mammy (angrily)—Joe Jefferson, how many times mus' I call befo' you heah?

Joe Jefferson—Dunno, mammy. You stan' tha' an' holler, an' I'll stan' heah an' count.

The Plump One—My chin is getting sunburned.

The Sweet One—Never mind, dear, you've got another.

Miss Larson—Earl, who sits in back of you?

"I do," said Earl Zellar, as he picked up his books and calmly took the next seat back.

Georgia Smith (in a voice of terror)—Oh, Bill, I hear the cow horns.

Bill Gagen—Aw! Those are cow bells, silly.

As a Rule

Fred Lonigan (at an employment bureau)—Some one has sent for a yardman, sir.

C. Williamson—We haven't any yardmen at present.

Fred L.—Then shall I send up three footmen, sir?

"Prof" Iliff—Give what you consider the most memorable date in history.

James Barsi—The one Anthony had with Cleopatra.
