BERNICE McARDLE

It seems as if there are not more than one or two people who really understand "Mac." She is so big-hearted and helpful that she is always head over heels in work that somebody else has piled upon her. She ought to make a good librarian, for even the kiddies won't be afraid of the "Miss McArdle" who will appear over the top of the desk. The G. & T. is going to miss good old "Mac" next year, as she has been an exceptionally good worker on the staff.

ALICE McCAUGHY

Now Alice is a mixture of angelicalness and-er-naughtiness, because the poor dear divides her time between seeing that her hair doesn't part in the middle and in hunting up a little trouble. Only two years has she been with us, entering our beloved halls from Vallejo, but nearly every one knows Alice on account of her brightness, tennis ambitions, blondness, and the mysterious ring she wears!

HENDERSON MCGEE

"Al" says, "Maggie's favorite saying is 'Give me an intro,'" but we all know "Al". Agnes says, "Maggie's chief characteristic is sisterly love". Annie hoo, he is going to be a civil engineer, and, as he has been a member of the Honor Scholarship Society, a famous experimenter in chemistry, and this year's renowned short term joke editor, he ought to make good as a "boss engineer". Luck be with you, light-hearted "Maggie."

FRED MANEELY

Fred Maneely is one of our modest senior boys who always knows a lot more than he pretends to know. He has not been with us for a very long time, but he is well liked by all his associates. Fred is certain to have a successful career, for along with his intelligence he has a serious and business-like nature.

ELLA MANUEL

Dancing, eating, talking, gossiping—somewhere in a group doing the above, you'll always find "El", continually laughing, sweet and cheerful, so cheerful, in fact, that she just seems to radiate happiness. "Tooty" will attend U. C. next year, and if she is as good on committees there as she has been here, she will be received with open arms. "Pinafore", crew, freshman reception entertainments, Honor Scholarship Society, and committee work for helping the poor at Christmas are a few of her "doings".

VIVIAN MANUEL

A girl who is greatly interested in the welfare of the girls about her is Vivian. She has filled the office of president of the Associated Girl Students during the past year with great care and efficiency. "Vi" with her sweet personality certainly makes a friend to be proud of. She has served well on a number of committees. Besides her welfare work, "Vi" has had time enough to put on her studies, as her name graced the Honor Scholarship Roll frequently.

RUTH MATHEWS

Ruth takes things terribly seriously, but she's always laughing. That is a rather peculiar statement; yet it is true. Music and talking are her favorite pastimes, and everybody remembers her in "Pinafore", "The Pirates of Penzance", and the Glee Club. She also plays basket ball and belonged to the almost-forgotten girls' crew, four long years behind us.

Seniors

JULIET MELTZER

Juliet is quite famous at school as a violinist, and, as she intends to become a professional player, it is only probable that she will become famous in larger circles than that at present. Whatever Juliet attempts to do, she does well. In such sports as basket ball and dancing, she is in her glory. Nothing seems to trouble "Julie" deeply, for she always has a bright word for every one and everything.

MADGE MENKING

We know that Madge makes a sincere friend and a pleasant companion, for she has many friends. Just like her friend "Dot", Madge intends to be a Physical Training Instructor. She will attend U. C. to prepare for this work. Madge has been an excellent student and has done a good deal of welfare work for the school.

ALIENE MEYERS

"Dutch" was on the committees for the senior girls' luncheon and dance given by the Honor Scholarship Society, of which she is a member. It is a wonder when "Dutch" was on the former that the domestic science departments didn't misunderstand her when she said, "Hot doggie", (her favorite saying) and place the plebeian fare on the luncheon menu. "Dutch" is planning to go to work after she leaves school (maybe!).

NELLIE MEYERS

Nellie is just crazy about pretty clothes, and—sh—sh—Gene says she spends "oodles" of time hoping she can be a detective and discover dope fiends in Chinatown! Oh, Nellie! But she has the high ambition to be a real court reporter after she has finished a course at Munsen's in San Francisco. Good luck, "Nell." Maybe the writer of thy history will get a divorce from "Margie" and let you write it up.

ANGELINE MIGNACO

"Angeline, will you please take the roll," is what the girls are accustomed to hearing Miss M. U. Howell say in her adviser section whenever she is exceptionally busy? Or, "Angie, will you do this" or "that" or "something else?" the girls are forever saying, and good old Angie is right there with a smiling face. She was on the student control, and in "Pinafore", has been a regular Honor Scholarship member, and is loved by all who know her.

KATHRYN MILEY

When the historian was talking to her over the phone, putting her through the n-th degree in order to find something nice to write for you, Mr. Annual, she simply drowned her questioner with floods of laughter, and that seems to show her principal characteristic—jolliness. But, Sh! she also told me she just "loves to eat macaroni, swim, read, dance," and she especially enjoys such social gatherings as the party to entertain the February "grads" this year at the famous luncheon.

DELBERT MILLER

"Del" just loves to talk, and argue—! Say, better look out, every one, if you decide to try him, because he has a great talent for argumentation. Of course every one knows of "Del's" famous poetry and expects to hear of an early publication of "The Poems of D. Miller."

Seniors

HUBERT MINAHEN

"How d' ya like walkin', 'Minnie?'" Uh, huh! That's what he got for speeding. But we wonder if his thirty-day walk cured his mania for speed. We shake our heads in the negative. But "Minnie" is a good student even if he does like a good time. A grade of 2 or above in everything put him in the Honor Society; and he's going to take a "P. G." course with us next year.

LORRAINE MORAN

Many have been the times we have seen "Ignatz" go dashing around on horseback. She is one of the few S. H. S. students who indulge in this delightful pastime, and, take it from her, "It surely is fun!" Just think, the medical profession will soon claim her, because she's going to be a real M. D. "Skeezix" is possessed of a peculiar dry wit that makes everyone who knows her feel glad whenever it "pops out".

HOLLIS MORRIS

Hollis Morris is well liked by every one. Besides being a good sport, "Holly" is an "Al" student. When he was younger he used to be the wittiest and most mischievous little boy imaginable; but certain influences, educational and otherwise, have made him, aside from his wit, quite a dignified young man. In a little while we shall know "Holly" as a successful business man.

ALBERT MURRAY

Albert Murray is the little boy with the big voice. "Al" is best known for his quickness of action and mind. One proof of his quick action is that he won second place in the cross country run this year. It is doubtful whether shy little Al will follow "dad's" example and be a school superintendent or—? Al is very systematic, and whatever he decides to do he will be sure to do well.

JOSEPHINE OREN

Josephine Oren is the little fairy who keeps Mr. Toms' office in apple pie order. All Jo's friends like her for her sweet and quiet disposition. She is always very neat about her appearance and her work. Jo has been a good student from start to finish. After she leaves school, she will spend her entire time in keeping some office as efficiently as she has kept the night school office.

HOWARD PARKER

Behold our silvery tongued orator! For the past year he has been a member of Miss M. U. Howell's public speaking class and has become quite famous in playing upon and interpreting emotions. Although he is rather a shy and quiet looking boy, his friends know that he is far from this description, for he is quite entertaining and just loves to go to dances.

ROBERT PATTERSON

"Bob" is musically inclined! Not much need to say that, as every one knows it. He began tooting a trombone when he first started to school, and has been a musician ever since. His hobby is playing at dances, and at every school party he has taken the sliding part. He is also fond of making speeches, is a great favorite with the boys, and his popularity runs in all directions. Bob hasn't decided what he is going to do when he grows up, but says his ambition is to be a good musician.

Seniors

GEORGE PENNEBAKER

Looking for "Penny"? Well, if you don't find him at the tennis courts, look in Mr. Iliff's office or in the library, for, when he is not wielding a wicked racket, he is working on debates or orations. He was second only to Percy Dolan in the tennis tournaments, won the debates on the industrial question, and was a good and efficient secretary of the Wranglers' Club. In fact, anything that George does is done well. "A good fellow! Proud to know him," you'll say.

ARDROE PERRY

Ardroe is very fortunate in possessing a combination of character and charm; and, for this reason, we predict all sorts of good things for her. Among incidentals, she's one of our best readers and received a prize in her fourth year English class for the best reading of a poem. As to "Ardie's" future, well, we bet she has her hope chest started that's all we know.

MODAYNE POOL

"Jumbo" is the most noted for being a very prominent Camp Fire Girl, and as she is a good sport, and always smiling, she must be a great asset to her group. She expects to take up interior decorating at college, but just where is still undecided. Ardroe says she's always hunting trouble and teasing people, but she is very business-like when she is in class.

DWIGHT POTTER

"Boots" has a weird imagination, as all know who have read any of his stories—especially the one about "me, my friend, an' me dog." He is a member of the Administrative Committee of the Honor Scholarship Society, and of the Research Committee of the Science Club, and plays baseball. Although he is working to become a structural engineer, he is getting his hand in now by engineering his affections.

ELEANOR POWELL

"Ellie's" hair! It's just simply too marvelous to be real, and yet it is—just as real as "Ellie" herself. She has a wonderful brain, too, as she is completing high school in three years, and of course belongs to the Honor Scholarship Society. "Ain't it Grand n' Glorious", she is continually raving, and she is happy as a lark whenever she can sing and dance to her heart's content.

HENRY PRESTON

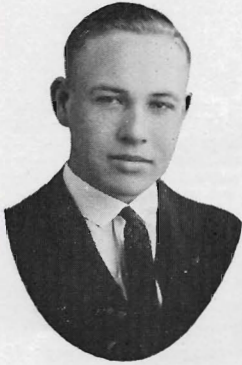

Henry Preston is a perfect old man, or, to be more exact, he was one in the senior play. "Pres" is an AI commercial student, has good dramatic ability, and is one of Stockton High's good all-round students.

GOLDIE RISK

We poor shorties feel as though we're going to get "aeroplane neck" when we converse with her—she looms so high above us! It was a pretty risky thing for Risky to ride bareback on a wild 'n woolly horse, and she surely can put the ball right into the basket in basket ball. "Risky" "kind o' thinks" she'll "twirl a wicked pencil" as somebody's "steno." We take no risk, judging by her school record, in recommending her to prospective employers.

Seniors

WALLACE ROHRBACHER

Meet our well-known "Jumbo", the fierce headsman who "can cut a ha-a-ir in two" of "The Six Who Pass While the Lentils Boil" fame. He has served the school as a member of the student control and the executive committee, 1921-22 second vice-president of the student body, circulation and exchange manager of "The Guard and Tackle" weekly last year, and parade manager of the 1921 "Big 'S' Sirkus." And "Jumbo" will, in a few years, help the poor public in the capacity of a perfectly good dentist.

MARJORIE ROSEN

On seeing "Margie," one says, "Isn't she attractive?"; on knowing her a little, one declares, "She's very nice"; and on really knowing her, one loves her with all one's heart. "Margie" came to us in February from Winnipeg, Canada, and was so vivacious that she immediately made hosts of friends. Her clever literary style has enlivened the two school publications with which she has been connected.

DOROTHY ROWAN

"Dot" enjoys getting wildly excited and expecting something dreadful will happen; yet her pals say that she's spoiled and babyish. Wonder if she is! Playing tennis is one of her favorite amusements, and she enjoys swimming and other sports, too. She says she's going to be private "sec" for some rich man soon.

INEZ RYANT

The first impression one receives from Inez is that she is an extremely quiet, demure, retiring young lady, but just break through the reserve, and you'll find much wit and "pep." And the designs for the artistic and original baskets that come from Inez's brain are a marvel even to Miss "Monty." Such ability is not going to be wasted, because Inez expects to teach kindergarten kiddies in the near future all the mysteries of a, b, c and basket weaving.

GENEVIEVE RYANT

We now have the great honor of presenting Stockton High's Viola Dana! "Gene" is the greatest little "speed hound" that ever trod these classic halls. Her favorite occupation is outrunning speed cops, and even her by-word is, "Oh chase me, sister." 'Twas three years ago that "Gene" bobbed her crowning glory; so she is one of the pioneers in the famous "bobbed brigade." We say, "Rah for Viola!"

GRACE SALMON

Good natured "Sammy" liked the hours spent in practice for the drama class plays, especially for "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife." She's a good cook, likes riding horseback, enjoys being on the student control and in the Honor Scholarship Society, and is always happy and smiling. "Sammy" says her destiny is teaching the kiddies in the grammar grades, after a teacher's course at San Jose Teachers' College.

MARY SAYERS

Mary Sayers is the mysterious M. S. who during the past year has written thoughtful editorials for the G. & T. Just such careful, serious work will Mary do when she is out in the field of life. We have always known "Gat" as a quiet and retiring girl; however, underneath is a warm heart and a keen mind. She spends a great deal of time thinking—thinking of something to write. Her favorite expression "fantastic smitherens" proves her originality.

Seniors

Gertrude Sellars

GERTRUDE SELLARS

Gertrude seems to be a very conscientious girl, who, although she is continually happy and in good spirits, always works hard enough to receive good marks. Every one of her teachers has an exceptionally good word to say for her. And her friends—every word is one of commendation. She is a very sweet looking little person, but one would never guess that she is a young lady with very decided opinions.

JEAN SHEPHERD

If you want music, you should hear Jean play! No wonder she's popular; she's always "jazzing it up" when a piano is in sight. But Jean likes to eat and sleep and enjoy herself, too. She thinks of that so much that she doesn't know of anything else to do after school ends.

LAWRENCE SEIFERT

Lawrence is another of our star athletes. In basket ball, football, baseball, and track, he did distinguished work. He is known as "Cyclone" for his swiftness of action in all these sports. He is the proud owner of a block "S" and three stars. Besides his record as an athlete, he is known for his good work as the baseball captain of '21 and for his part in the senior play this year.

GEORGIA SMITH

Does she look dignified? Well, rather not! "Gregory" is so full of "pep" that she would just keep her little tongue wagging at both ends if she could. Yet one who once sees her dance is forever lost to the charms of other girls. Remember the adorable, fluttering butterfly last year in "The Six Who Pass While the Lentils Boil"; and the gay participant in many interesting dances? She has been a ready writer and reporter for the weekly and annual, and won a prize in English class as an excellent reader of poetry. "Joy in work" should be, and we hope will remain, Georgia's motto.

EDWARD SMITH

Ed Smith, our most brilliant senior, is well known for his "one" record. Besides this, Ed has been prominent for his executive ability in such positions as president of the Scholarship Society, president of the Science Club, warden of the Wranglers' Club, and member of the Student Control Committee. He has excelled as a debater and orator. He will probably be remembered longest by the school for his wonderful interpretation of Sir Joseph Porter, K. C. B., in the opera, "Pinafore." So far he has no serious ambition, but declares that at present his aim is to become a bigger eater than "Spud" Spooner.

PETER SNYDER

"Pete", one of the miniature members of the class, is a most likable sort of boy and has been prominent in school affairs all four years. He was a member of the jolly crew of "Pinafore" and danced the horn pipe as well as any professional sailor. "Pete" is a good student and has been one of the fluent orators of the public speaking class during the past year. After going to U. C., "Pete" plans to follow in dad's footsteps and be a lawyer.

FRED SPOONER

His doing the wrong thing at the right time is what has acquainted the whole school with "Spud". Leave it to him to pop up at the unexpected moment. He wants to "just live—eat, sleep, and have a good time" when he finishes school. He's doing his share in the debates this year, has worked some on committees, and is short term manager of this year's weekly. So he works a little even now, and may become a real producer later on.

Seniors

JOHN STEELE

John Steele, a boy who towers above many of his brother and sister seniors, is often seen surrounded by a group of interested friends. They say "Hoppy" is quite an entertainer. It is his plan to attend U. C. next year, where he will study to be an engineer.

MARGARET STEELE

We here introduce "Agatha" from the "Admirable Crichton" presented by Miss Coman's oral-expression class year before last, and still remembered as well as though it happened yesterday. "Toots" just loves playing tennis and riding (wonder why?). Next year she's going to either college or normal somewhere and prepare to become a kindergarten teacher. Yeh! "Toots", wish I were a "kid" again!

THELMA STEINBECK

"Bobbye!" She's the one who has been doing so much for us the last couple of years on the G. & T. But the best thing about her is the kind of a pal she makes. A true-blue friend—that's what she is. Way back in Bob's freshman year, she helped stir the "fishies" from their rest by pulling the oars in crew. But nearly all she thinks about now is newspaper work, and some day she may have a journal of her own.

RAY STILES

As president of the student body during the past year, Ray needs no introduction. With his ability as an executive and a public speaker, and his quiet influence always on the right side, he has made an excellent president. Besides this Ray has been a prominent athlete and did much to make Stockton's record so superior in this year. Ray makes a good actor, also, as he proved in the part of Mr. Nathan in the senior play, "The Tailor Made Man", and as a sailor in "Pinafore".

PEARL SUMNER

"I'd go wild if I didn't have something to do," "Jimmy" tells us, and she certainly is noted for being exceptionally responsible. Maybe one reason for this is that she tries to live according to her beloved "Camp Fire laws," and every one knows she will make a successful nurse if she really decides to go in training. "Jimmy" is forever ready for a good time, and the girls in her Camp Fire group vouch for her every time as a good sport.

LELIA TAGGART

"Be sure to tell every one she is good-hearted," the scribe was energetically told, and she certainly is; for one who is so noted for her continual optimism and loyalty just couldn't help being good-hearted. "Lee" will enter the San Jose Teachers' College after graduating, and will, after her course there, show the "kiddies" what a joy it is to have a humorous, sunny teacher.

ALVIN TRIVELPIECE

Did you ever talk to "Al" when he wasn't so full of spontaneous, clever remarks that he kept every one laughing? He was the first "short-term editor" of the G. & T., and he certainly did honor to the new position. He played on the 120 and 130 pound basket ball teams. When it comes to "ambish", "Tickle" surely has plenty, as he intends to become a "medico" after attending the College of the Pacific, U. C., Cooper's Institute, and Harvard.

Seniors

REGINALD TUMELTY

Reginald Tumelty is a "champ" in every sense of the word, as he holds the state high school swimming record in the 100 yard breast-stroke. He was also a member of the track team and contributed several first places to the "Blue and White" totals. Besides being an athlete "Reggie" is a good scout and can always be found with a broad smile on his face. As yet he has no definite ambition, but expects to decide within "the next fifty years" what line of work he shall take up.

VIVIAN UREN

Hold! Look at Vivian's face and you will see gazing upon you the young lady who has the public speaking ability to receive "ones" from Miss M. U. Howell in that subject. The school had the opportunity to hear her during Better English Week. But woe is me—for instead of decorating the inside of pupils' minds with "winged words", "Shorty" expects to decorate the interior of people's houses with little filigrees after she finishes college.

MADELINE VITAICH

Madeline is, first and foremost, a friend—after that comes her voice. She's been in the Glee Club for four years and was in the chorus of "Pirates of Penzance." A little committee work and a part in the "Admirable Crichton" helped to rest her thoughts a little from her studies. Tell her some interesting fact, and listen to her say—"Oh now really!"

MARGARET WADGE

"Snowball" was on the committee to prepare the program for the mid year graduates and helped to make that first occasion a huge success. She belongs to the Honor Scholarship Society, was one of the members of the "Student Control", and filled that important position in a very efficient manner. "Snowball" is going to work for the government after leaving S. H. S., and more than likely before giving her the position, "Uncle Sammie" will come back with her favorite saying, "How Do You Figure?"

LESLIE WAGGONER

"Les" gives one the impression of being quiet and rather slow, but his record in his classes and his interest in athletics contradict this notion. He has done exceptionally well in track and plays basket ball and baseball with enthusiasm.

VIVIAN WEBB

This time we have found a young lady who "just dotes on going to church"! She likes to bake cakes, read novels, and play the piano besides just loads of other things that prove her wide interest in life. "Blondy's" most abused expression seems to be, "Gee, I don't know"; but she did really know that she helped to "put over" one of the "peppy" school dances, and she will know that she can get enjoyment out of any position in which fate places her.

ARNOLD WERNER

Arnold Werner has had many love affairs, but, sad to relate, they were only the scores of his opponents in tennis. Like "Slick" Dolan, Werner thinks of nothing but tennis and girls. Yet he does find some time for his studies, and as a result is about to receive his much-coveted sheep-skin. "Arn" is full of "pep" and vivacity, and there are some who doubt the statement that all his love affairs are connected with tennis. Anyway "Arn" is a prince of a fellow and is conceded to be a "mean looker".

Seniors

HELEN WESTGATE

If you have the "blues", just look at "Wessy." She fairly radiates laughter and sunshine. And one who knows believes she could die happy if dancing. She's done her share of work on committees, too, and hopes to be able to do some journalistic work after she completes her education.

PAULINE WHITE

Another artistic member of the class of '22 is Pauline White who has been prominent in the art classes since her freshman year. Pauline immediately gives one an impression, which is true, that she is a calm and refined girl. Although not so lively as many others, she is "a good sport" and has many friends. She has not decided just what she will do after finishing school, but we are sure she will do with distinction whatever she attempts.

CARLTON WILCOX

Carlton Wilcox is known by his friends as "Sleepy", but when one thinks of the things Carlton is interested in, he must immediately decide that the nickname does not fit. Carlton has been a member of the school band, a member of crew, short term assistant manager of the annual, and a good student. Many say that Carlton is also very attentive to a certain young lady!

BERNICE WILEY

Bernice has a number of attractive qualities and gifts. Total strangers can get excited about her heavenly soprano voice, her raven hair, and her "vampish" eyes, but we who know her don't stop at such heaven-sent trifles. The Bernice we sing about is first of all a good sport who dotes on horseback riding and all activities and is always the life of the party whether it is in a "gym" dressing room or the Philomathean Club House.

CARLETON WILLIAMSON

Enter the bashful lover, Carleton Williamson. At least he was bashful in the Dramatic Workshop production, "The Ghost Story". That was only a play; so don't give up hopes, "all ye ladie faire". "Bashful" entered Stockton High School from Bakersfield High School two years ago and proceeded to become a popular member of the student body. Stockton High will sure miss his smiling countenance and cheery manner. The girls especially will miss his bashful (?) ways, and the boys will lose a good "pal".

LLOYD WOOD

Say, have you ever seen "Wobbly, Jr." smile? If not, you've surely missed it, because he has an awfully cute "hidden" dimple that shows up when he's happy. And he is nearly always that way, too. Wonder if that isn't why we all like him? He's planning on being a court reporter (to get on the good side of the judge?). Now he says he likes to study history! Must be from necessity?

ALVA WOODFORD

We present the "Great American Mystery" in the personage of Miss Alva Woodford. Now, we don't mean she's really mysterious or "spooky" or anything like those, but that she is so very quiet that she makes people wonder about what she's thinking. We all nearly died laughing at poor "Sir Joseph's" old maid auntie in "Pinafore". "Al" enjoys reading, tennis, and other sports, especially when "Wim" is with her.

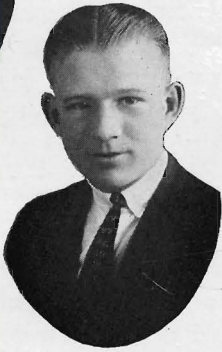

Alva Woodford

Seniors

EDITH YANDELL

Edith, much better known as "Dimps," was on the committee for the entertainment of Oakland High School and did all in her power to make their stay a pleasant one. Sh—! A little bird told another little bird that she has a tendency to be sarcastic, but we really don't know!

EARL ZELLER

Do you know how to be good and still get into trouble? "Zero" does, and he always displays his knowledge. But, even at that, he's on the student control to keep others out of mischief. He was one of the actors in "The Admirable Crichton". He did much for the seniors by coming in eleventh in the cross country run this year. As assistant manager of "The Guard and Tackle," he pulled in "ads" galore. And don't forget—among the many other things he did was to harden his muscle in crew. To top off all this, he's going to be an exporter.

RUTH COWELL

A girl with a lovely personality is Ruth. Although she was rather quiet and retiring, she had just loads of friends. Besides having these characteristics, Ruth was kind, lovable, and keen. Her class work proved this last statement, for she did excellent work all through her time at school. She was one of the members of our first mid-term graduating class.

S. H. CHUN

S. H. Chun was a brilliant Korean student who graduated in mid year. He is at present, according to his own story, "bumming around" looking for a job. A person of Chun's abilities will probably not have to "bum" long. He speaks English like a native-born American and is "white" in all but skin.

JOSEPHINE PEOPLES

"Jo" made her class proud of her when she represented it with her fine speech at the commencement exercises in February. Despite the fact that "Jo" was not with us all four years, she became well-known and made many friends in the limited time she was here. Josephine is now preparing to enter a broader field of knowledge—U. C.

RUTH ZUCKERMAN

"Zuckie" was a girl who never got tired. Always there with some original idea, with some bright word, with something for every program, or with a good class recitation—was the reputation Ruth made for herself while at S. H. S. She became well known as a public speaker of talent. Besides Ruth had many other accomplishments, for she could sing, dance, act, and shine in many forms of sport.

JOSEPHINE THORP

We all think of "Jo" as a quiet and ambitious girl and are not wrong in our opinion. She has been one of the senior members of the Scholarship Society since it was organized. Besides "Jo" has been a member of the Glee Club and a worker for the G. and T. She intends to go to teachers' college next year, and then later she wants to write a book. Good luck to you, dear Josephine.

JESSIE SAYLES

You who think she is a quiet, docile little lady don't know the real Jessie. She is quiet, yes, but just attend a barn dance at which she is present, and you will find that she knows how to enjoy herself as much as anyone. Jessie is one of our most youthful of the seniors with her emblem of girlhood, a long braid, down her back.
