A Photograph

is a delightful duty one owes himself—his loved ones and friends . . . and the pleasure it gives is not for a day or a week, but for a lifetime. A photograph has also become a present-day necessity. In whatever circle you move—social, fraternal, business, club, school, church, political—an up-to-date photograph is necessary as a modish wardrobe and almost as much used. It only requires a few minutes—no matter how busy the day—to sit for a photograph. You are invited to inspect, without obligation, our new, exclusive, copyrighted styles of mountings and portraiture.

FOUND BY GLENN HARPER IN TYPING CLASS

Oh Elmer dear, of all my thoughts,
My sweetest memories and dreams,
I think of you all the time,
But you 're mean to me, it seems.

I guess I haven't caught you right,
For my "It" is rather slow,
And though I don't think I'm so very bad,
I'm sure not any Clara Bow.

Oh darling Elmer, how I pine for you,
Away from this place to fly,
With me you'll find contentment,
Without me you'll be sure to die.
