ANOTHER SEASON of Stockton High sports and the athletes that made them bright has passed into memory. Another year, although not as successful, in places, as previous years, is a credit to the school and the fighting hearts that represent it.

As another fighting Tarzan football team goes down in the annals of history, there is yet a year to pass when a Stockton High team failed to fight. The 1931 team held the banners of Blue and White while they strained and battled to the last shot of the gun. Although receiving second place in the C. I. F. League, one will agree that more than ever Stockton High showed the real stuff they were made of.

We have also good reason to be proud, staunchly proud, of our basketball team. In spite of the fact that this year's team did not capture the championship, it is generally conceded that Stockton was one of the strongest contenders in the League. This year Auburn, downed early in the season with a crushing score, came back, and with a new-found technique, snatched away the Northern State championship after Stockton had won the C. I. F. Central League.

Track teams have always had one or two top-notch performers, and this year was not different. But in the main, the material has been insufficient to enable the team to compete with strong schools. However, a very successful season was passed, and each year the boys bring more patrons to its meets. This rapid interest ought to bring around a championship team in a short time.

Swimming, always a strong sport, did not lose its pedestal in 1932. The paddlers did well, and their series of meets are a credit to them. These boys are made of real stuff, and their small team carried the name of Stockton High in a fine manner.

Golf and tennis teams enjoyed more matches this year than ever previously. They are fast becoming leading sports, and their endorsement is rising. Baseball, a newly added sport, did well this year for a premier. It may be foreseen that this team will soon be leading the field in its quick rise to prominence.

To all these stalwart boys, who, though physically alone, were morally supported, let a cheer flare forth. Stockton High may well be proud of her athletes and their records for 1931-32.

FOOTBALL "A" TEAM

Football

WHEN early in September, 1931, Coach Wallace "Bud" McKay thought of the coming season, he shuddered. He had but three veterans—Alustiza, Lang, and Panizza. He had a few one-year men besides, but that was all. Julius Trombetta was added to the coaching staff, and the season began with a turnout of over fifty men.

For practice, an Alumni team with Carlos Souza as captain was set against the Tarzans. With Olhasso, Ah Tye, and Alustiza leading the attack, the ex-Tarzans were easily dumped 13 to 0. Immediately after this Stockton met the favored San Mateans under the leadership of their new captain, Irvin Lang, and took home their first scalp, 12 to 2. Alustiza went through the Griffenmen in fast fashion, and the Tarzans were off with their first taste of battle.

Next on the schedule of games were Galileo and Lowell. These two teams called on every ounce of fight and deception that the Bluemen could offer. They were more experienced and heavier, but the Tarzans kept a tied tally on them both—Galileo 6-6; Lowell, a scoreless tie.

After a hectic three weeks run of hard contests, the first League game with Modesto hove in sight. Trombetta and McKay gave more new plays, more defense points and on Friday, October 16, a contingent of 3,000 Stocktonites traveled to Modesto to see "who was who." Alustiza piled up 163 yards as the locals smeared the Panthers 28 to 19. Predagne and Ah Tye rambled through for considerable gains as Stockton avenged their last year's defeat.

Against the Turlock Bulldogs, a small, light eleven, the reserves and varsity showed badly. The melon-pickers lacked substitutes and lost the game with a 13 to 6 score.

No one thought after the Turlock mess that Coach McKay could send a team to Sacramento and overthrow them 21 to 6. But he did. The Senators were dumped easily, while critics declared that Stockton High was one of the best teams ever seen in action on the Sacramento Junior College field. The ball traveled fast and furiously, and it was only in the fourth quarter on a fumbled pass that the Capitol city boys were able to get their lone score.

Then up loomed the Little Big Game! Both Stockton and Lodi had beaten Sacramento and Modesto; the game between them would decide the League winner.

November 14, 1931. Bands. Crowds. Cheers. The day of days! Twenty-two fighting, determined men on a field. The outcome was 6-0, in favor of Lodi, but Stockton didn't alibi. Lodi won the Championship, but Stockton hearts were loyal to the men who had done their best.

Both teams tore each other wide open in the first quarter, and it was not until late in the second that a 12-yard pass from Seiferling to Okasaki, whence "Okie" galloped 15 yards, that the Flames were able to score. Stockton struggled bravely in that sea of mud and water to overcome that crushing lead, but couldn't do it. Mondavi and Alustiza punted and passed for their alma maters, as play after play brought thrills to both sides. Predagne made a 31-yard run in the second half to become one of the immortal heroes of the day. A fight from start to finish, the game showed an excellent quality of football.

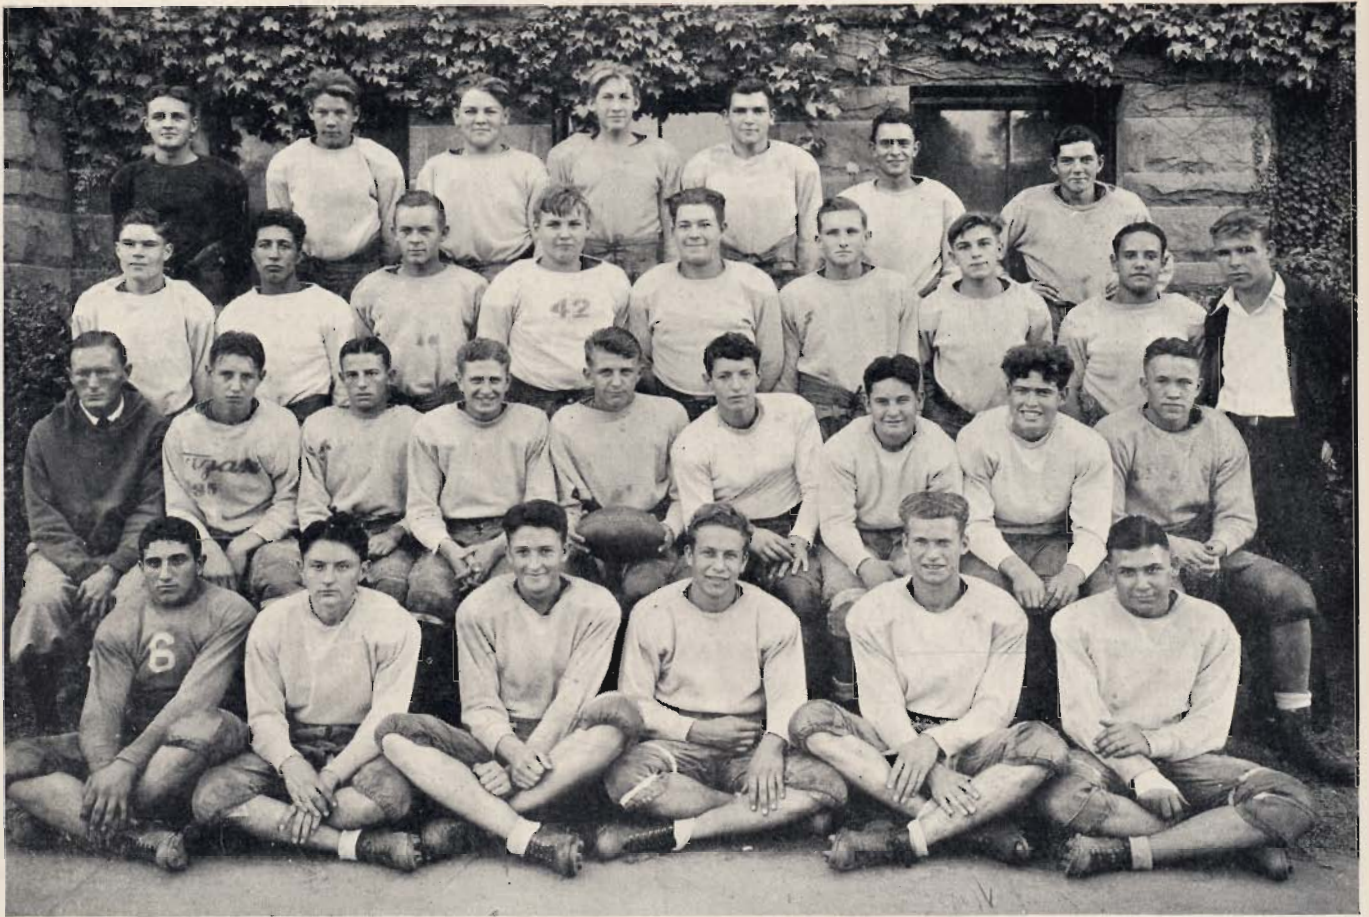

The winner of the Bay League, Polytechnic of San Francisco, was the last opponent on the schedule. A charity game on Thanksgiving Day brought few fans, because of rainy weather. The heavy Sunset men walked all over Stockton, but in the last minute Frank Alustiza brought his high school career to a thrilling close by galloping 57 yards to a touchdown and ending the game in a 20 to 7 tally. Five wins, two ties, two losses.

The Stockton Tarzans consisted of, ends, Massoli, Miller, Hitchcock, Creighton, Jones, Martin, and Pease; tackles, Cecchini, Panizza, Lambert, L. Panizza, Percy Sutton, McCan, Pitto, and Wilson; guards, Lang, Guerrero, Dixon, Calvelli, and Silva; centers, Feary, Hauser, and Repetti; quarterbacks, George, Vitaich, and Lightner; halves, Olhasso, Canlis, Ah Tye, Davies, Predagne, and Presto; fullbacks, Alustiza, Morotti, and Domench.

THE VARSITY

"B" TEAM

"BEE" FOOTBALL

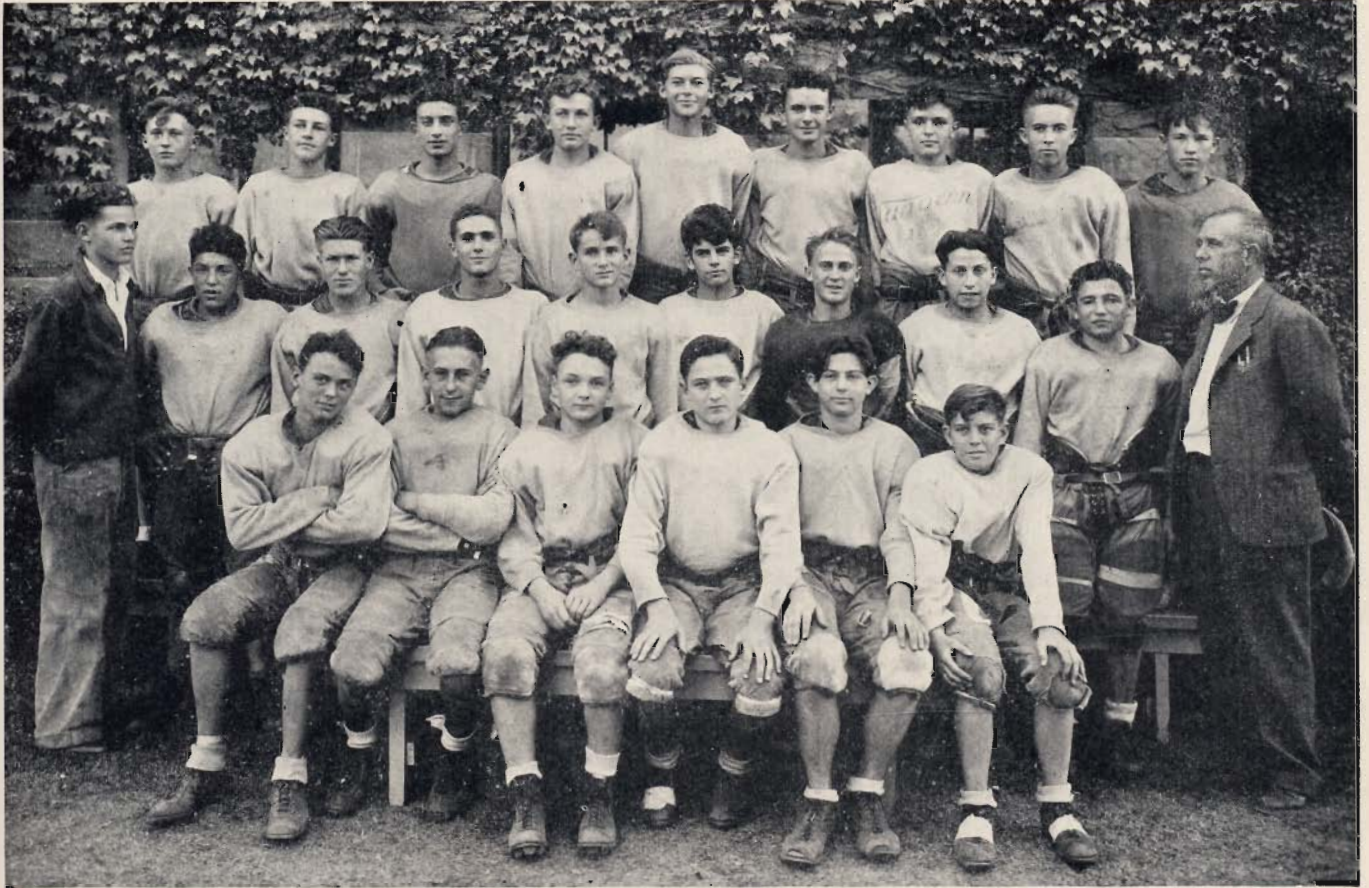

THE JUNIOR VARSITIES, the "Bee" team, under the excellent tutelage of Coach "Hap" Evans, went over the scheduled road for 1931 in a rather hazy manner. Lacking both weight and experience, the boys finished their season with seven losses, one tie, and one victory.

They got off to a bad start when they lost to Pittsburg in a smothering 43-0 count. This team and the Galt "Bees," whom they next played, outweighed the younger boys and were really more of varsity material. Galt took the Evans boys 14-0. A return game with Pittsburg avenged the burning sting of their first defeat when they held the Smoky City boys to a 0-0 tally. Again they took it on the chin when Manteca rolled over the home-towners with a 27 to 0 scalping.

Tatum and Kirk played outstandingly as the next game was lost in a hard and gruelling manner to Tracy, with a 13 to 0 marker. The single victory of the season came when 19-0 became the score of the St. Mary's "Bee" team game. With Nordwick and Cotter leading, Stockton gambled against the Lodi lightweights but lost 14-7.

A return game with Manteca heard in vain the battlecry as the Buffaloes rolled over the Beemen 31 to 0. The season drew to a close with a close and thrilling contest ending in favor of Preston 7-6. Some outstanding players on the 1931 "Bee" team were Capps, Segarini, Sprigi, Ponder, Kirk, Matta, Affatigato, Drais, Tatum, Martin, Geoffrey, Weaver, Saxton, and Davis.

"C" TEAM

"CEE" FOOTBALL

A FAST and furious season of six games composed the schedule of Coach Charley Libhardt's 130-pound "Cee" team. The team won four and lost two games while running up 82 points to their opponents' 56.

The Babes got off to a flying start when they went to Tracy and brought back the banner with a 12 to 7 tale. Pennini made both touchdowns by snagging the quick passes that the flashy backfield threw him, while Curtis Woolard played a fine game on the line. Tracy, not satisfied with the result of this game, asked for another, which she also lost 18 to 0. Before they had time to rest, the juniors were traveling the next day to Lodi, where despite their fatigue from the game of the previous day, they were able to make two touchdowns to end the game at 21-12. Rosen and Short starred for the "Cees."

A larger and heavier St. Mary's team went before the onslaught as Monarch, Bollignini, and Christiansen led a strong attack to wind up a 12-7 score. A practise tilt with the Ione lightweights led to a disastrous outcome because of the injuries received by team members in the St. Mary's tussle. The game ended 21-12.

Libhart wound the season up in fine style when he took a local aggregation, the Bob Wells' Terrors, to the cleaners with a 16-0 shut-out. The Terrors were thrown for considerable losses, despite their added weight against the "Cees."

Basketball

TROUNCING fourteen fast quintets to win fifteen out of eighteen games was the sum of a successful Tarzan basketball season. Stockton easily took the C. I. F. League championship by defeating Modesto, Sacramento, and Lodi each twice.

A large turnout for Coach "Pete" Lenz's basket-shooters brought many new men, but the varsity material used was men who had one year's experience, except Captain Marvin Dinkel, who completed this year his fourth stripe.

Opening the season with a double-header, the Bluemen easily dumped Manteca 24-17, and overthrew the Mission Padres 36-21. Stockton next smeared Auburn, last year's Northern State champs, with a 34 to 20 score.

A great surprise came when the California Frosh bowed to the Tarzans in a close contest, 17-15. The casaba-swingers defeated Galileo the same week-end with a tight 20-18 tally. Alders, Bean, the two Parsons and Dinkel had at this time the regular positions on the varsity as Christmas vacation began. During the two weeks "rest" the local boys defeated four flashy aggregations to count up 154 points in five games. One of the best games of the year was played as the ex-Tarzans, the Pi Delts, lost a thrilling contest 20-19. The game called for two extra periods to decide the winner. Stockton then took two games from the Oakdale Mustangs. The first in Stockton, 32-17; the second at Oakdale, 39-13.

Lowell, arriving in Stockton with three All-City men, was determined to win, but was terribly surprised when it was greeted with a 24-9 score. Manteca next went before the passing-shooting speedy Stockton team with an overwhelming 39-11 score.

The Tarzans entered the Panther's den at Modesto to win their first League game, 34-20. Stockton was too fast for the villagers and left them standing, while every man on the Blue team got a chance to play. After winning over one college freshman team, the Tarzans took on the Stanford Frosh and barely lost 22-21. At the half the Lenz cagers were leading 17-8, but could only score four points in the second quarter.

After Sacramento had kept the pace for three quarters, the Bluemen finally got a chance to work their dead-eye on the ball and take a close contest with a 31-21 score. While the reserves defeated Tracy with a 23-22 tale, the varsity was throwing the ball all over the Pacific gymnasium to take a 37-18 game on the Flames. Jack Bean made 12 points to be the hero of the day while in for only a half.

A game with the local St. Mary's Rams ended in 25-18 as the Blues prepared for the semi-final game with Modesto. The Stanislaus boys fought hard, but their opposition, as before, was too strong, and they went down, 28-17. The climax of the C. I. F. Central League came as the Stocktonians defeated the Dragons 31-16 after a terrible trampling contest. Before playing Lodi in a final tilt, the Tarzans journeyed to Moraga where they took a 32-16 beating from the St. Mary's Frosh. The Blue seconds took a simple win from Lodi 37-16 to close the League without a single loss.

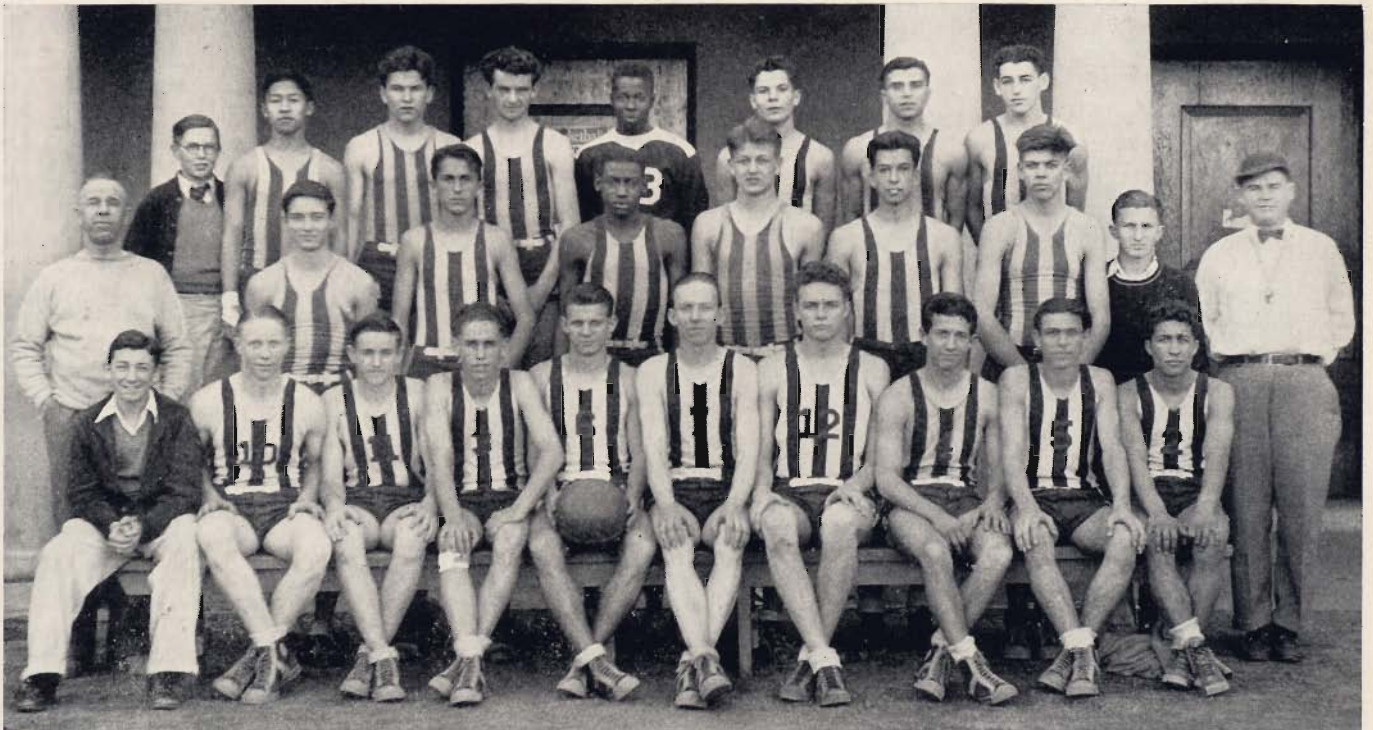

The Tarzans journeyed to Sonora for a play-off game of the Northern State League and came home with the honors, 34-14.

The Mother Lode boys started like a house afire, but soon cooled down in the second quarter, as the Blues tallied up fourteen points. Before the Patterson game, the Cavemen played a sizzling contest with the local St. Mary's team and won by a bare 23-21.

Stockton sank eleven fouls to win the Patterson game 29-12. Another barrier went down on the way to the championship as Jack Bean again became the star sharpshooter. The second quarter revealed an 8-7 lead for the Blues, but the quick teamwork soon overcame the danger, and set the Blues ready for the semi-finals of the league.

Auburn, perviously defeated 34-20, became the sensational winners of the semi-final game of the League as they defeated Stockton, 23-17, in an exciting game in the mountain city.

A successful season was completed through the efforts of such men as Scott, Grillo, Wheeler, Genetti, Presto, Baskin, Kettle, Lietich, Chesterfield, Beck Parsons, Mick Parsons, Bean, Dinkel, Alders, Pease, George, Mazzera, and Traverso.

VARSITY

"Bee" Basketball

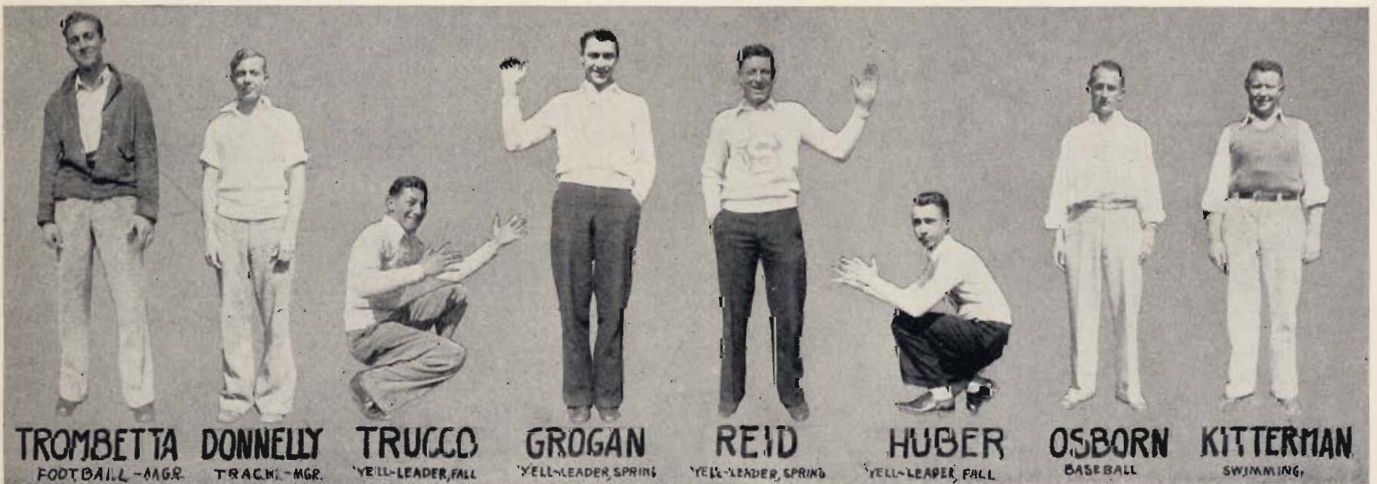

ONE of the most successful seasons ever passed by a Stockton high "Bee" team was spent this season, when the Babes went through for eight wins out of nine contests to score 218 points to their opponents' 153.

They won their first five games without a loss: the Y. M. C. A. Japanese, 17-15;

St. Mary's "Bee" team, 19 - 11; Modesto "Bee" squad, 26-16; Sacramento "Bees," 17-9; and Lodi juniors, 26-12. They took their first loss in a practise tilt with the Oakdale Mustangs, 18-10.

After this running start, they met the Sacramento "Bees" for the C. I. F. championship. The local boys won in a crushing 32 to 6 score. Only allowing the Dragons two field goals and two fouls, the Tarzans went through the Capitol City boys in slaughtering fashion. Troute was high point man, with Hirose and Ratto right on his heels with fine playing. After this another practise game with Ione led to a 24-11 score against them. Lodi next went down, 21-15.

At the playoffs for the Northern title, leading only 10 - 8 against Sonora when the whistle blew for the last quarter, the Blue Babes staged a quick rally to score eleven points and take the game 21 to 8. Alustiza took all honors of high scoring, with Troute again fast on his track. The next game resulted in a loss when Manteca defeated Stockton 19 - 18 in one of the closest matches observers had ever seen. The teams were tied 10-10 at the half, and it was only in the last minute when the Green and White team sank a foul that they were able to win. Firpo, Kenyon, and Hirose fought bravely for the Blues, but in vain.

Track

DURING the winter football season, Coach Bill Kerr's relay team won all of their between-halves contests with other schools. However, after those relays, no sign of track was seen until the cross-country was run. A miniature gold track shoe was given to the winner, Bob Hoopes, who later transferred to Lodi, where he joined the Flame squad. The rest finished in the following order: Barrows, Chann, Baskin, Weirhauser, and Cooper.

Things looked bad when Kerr received only 17 answers to his call for track men. Most of these were last year's men, and very few had done anything previously. Feary and Panizza in the shotput, Pease in the javelin, and Andrews and Baskin in the dashes were the only hopes. An interclass meet was held in an attempt to find some more material. A 57-33 score was the result of a meet with the ex-Tarzans, the alumni. Such stars as Krenz, Lally, Briones, Quinn, Fredericks, and Vigna completely smothered the school-goers by taking ten out of eleven firsts. Vigna took the 100 in :10.2, with Barrows right on his heels. No real star was found, and working hard with his scant material, Coach Kerr developed a little team with lots of power. In a meet with five high schools against the Modesto Junior College, Stockton was second high-point high school with 7½ points. Pease, Baskin, and Moran made points, with the relay team winning a second.

In a meet with the University of California freshmen with eleven other high schools, the Blues placed but two men. Joe Pease took a third in the javelin, while Andrews ran on the winning relay team. The next week saw Stockton smother Lodi 73¾ to 37¼. The Tarzans took seven firsts and the relay. Baskin took the 100 and 220 dashes with his teammates fast on his heels. The century was run off in :10.2 and the 220 in :23.5. Panizza surprised fans by taking the shotput at 42 feet 3 inches. Andrews jumped 20 feet 2 inches to get the blue ribbon for the broad jump. Andrews, Cooper, Dobbs, and Baskin composed the relay team.

Modesto, having the strongest track team in the C. I. F., didn't surprise anyone when she smeared the Blues 81½ to 40½.

TRACK TEAM

Jamieson, Panther ace, barely nosed out Captain Baskin in the sprints, while Hubbard ran a second in the 440. The javelin proved the Blues' strong event, as Pease and Lynch placed first and second respectively. Fred Feary took the shot with 45 feet, and seconds and thirds in other events completed the rest of the points.

The Blue spikers showed their dust to Turlock next with a 67 to 54 tally. Andrews was high point man, taking firsts in the century, furlong, and broad jump and running a lap in the winning relay. Turlock took three places in the discus and managed plenty of seconds and thirds. The first two laps of the relay saw the melon-pickers ahead, but when Dobbs got the baton, the Blues went ahead ten yards in front of Turlock to give the anchor man a good lead for the win.

Because their meets fell so close to the California Aggies' invitational meet and the Sacramento Relays, it was impossible for the Blues to enter this year.

In the grudge meet between the trackmen living on the east side of the tracks and those living on the west, it was the "West, the golden West" that won, 70-52. Andrews of the East made eleven points to again take high honours. The "Bee" track squad smeared the Lodi Babes 56 to 47 the following week when they took 19 out of 33 places.

The varsity lagged slowly at the finish of the season, to come fifth in the sub-sectional and to go without a score at the sectional.

Fred Feary, member of the track squad as a shot putter, left his track activities early this year to enter the P. A. A. bouts held at San Francisco. Fred battled his way to the finals, the winning of which gave him the right to go to New York for A. A. U. Championships. It took three hard bouts against more experienced and older fighters before he was acclaimed the National Heavyweight Amateur Champion! He was absent from school about three weeks.

Swimming

ONE of the toughest schedules in many years was laid out for the Blue and White splashers for 1932. Although many of last year's "Bee" men and some varsity men had improved fairly well, the team this year narrowed down a little in stars through the loss of Holt and Bennett in graduation. Coach "Pete" Lenz had his eye on Jack Trantham, and this boy came through for Stockton High in most of the meets to chalk up winning scores.

The first pre-season meet was the inter-class swim, which was won by the sophomores. The seniors took a clean sweep in the 100-yard free-style, with Trantham leading and Patterson and Tucker right on his heels. Kinser and Connor, both sophomores, scored 17 points apiece to take high point honors for the meet. Trantham scored 12½ points to take honors for the seniors, while Reiman and Lyons took 10 points apiece in representing the junior class. The score was, sophomores, 66; juniors, 56½; seniors, 32½; and freshmen, 14.

The second contest before the regular schedule was a grudge meet between the "North o' Main street boys" and the "South o' Main street boys." The northerners won with a one-point lead, 64-63, in one of the closest meets ever held. Kinser, Reiman and Kitterman were the high point men. The North took the relay and the medley relay and but five firsts out of thirteen events. Jack Dozier and Torrey Lyons raced the 440 and 50-yard backstroke respectively in record time to take honors for the North in these events.

The local paddlers took all honors and a record when they defeated the strong Sacramento Dragons with Captain Trantham lowering the 100-yard free style record by 2½ seconds. Tucker and Busalacchi finished first and second respectively in the 100-yard breast race. Blomerquist of Sacramento took all of the "Bee" events. During the meet Hamilton of Sacramento completely shattered the Northern C. I. F. record and equalled the national record for the 50-yard backstroke. The relay team, composed of Kinser, Reiman, Cottle, and Trantham, took first in :38.1 seconds, while the medley relay of Bill Dozier, Trantham, and Tucker was won in :33 seconds.

Cutting off .5 of a second in the 100-yard free style, Trantham led his teammates to another victory as the Blue swimmers smeared the Sacramento Junior College aquatic team 46-27. Jack Dozier suffered his first defeat when he lost the 400-yard grind by a slim margin. Trantham made 13 points, with Tucker coming second with a 6 2/3 tally. The Blues again took both relays.

Because of their change from warm pools to cold ocean water, the varsity lost its next meet to the Alameda wave-divers.

SWIMMING TEAM

The locals won but five events that day, and two of them were "Bee" class. Reiman won both of these races to become high point man of the meet for the Tarzans. Gilman of Alameda won over Trantham in the remarkable time of :57 $\frac{1}{4}$, but Trantham came back to win over his opponent in the 50-yard free style race. Tucker and Busalacchi came first and second in order in the 100-yard breast stroke.

It didn't take the Tarzans long to cool their steaming suits from their defeat, as they badly defeated the Lodi Flames the following week in a deluge of 96 to 26 points. The locals took 14 out of a possible 15 places. Trantham, returning to home water, again lowered the 100-yard free style swim when he passed the post in 57.2 seconds. Jack Dozier was again nosed out slimly by Klafke, an exceptionally fast 440 swimmer. Trantham took the 50-yard free in 26 flat, and Tucker came through for the Blues to win the 100-yard breast stroke in 1:19.2. Kinser took three first places in the meet and swam the winning relay combination to take 16 $\frac{1}{4}$ points for his alma mater.

Two Capitol city teams went down before the "never say die" Blues when the locals met the Sacramento High splashers and the Sacramento Junior College boys in a three-cornered meet at the Dragon city. The Tarzans gathered 57 points to 54 $\frac{1}{2}$ for the Jaysees and 27 $\frac{1}{2}$ for the high school swimmers. Trantham lowered the 50-yard free style record of 26 flat by cutting off .4 of a second. Tucker and Busalacchi again came through by taking the 100-yard breast stroke race in first and second order. Kinser took first in the 150-yard free, but only a third in the fifty. The Jaysee boys won both of the relays in fairly good time, while Troute and Cooke took second and third respectively in the fancy high dives.

Under the guiding tutelage of Coach Lenz, the Tarzans have won the Sectional swimming championship fourteen times and the State championship three times. With these records in mind the Blue and White aquatic team entered the swim-offs for the honors.

A meet with Sequoia resulted in a 47-34 win for the Blue divers.

Minor Sports

TENNIS

THE TENNIS VARSITY opened its season in November when a team composed of Holden Sanford, Al Busch, Herman Sapiro, and Dick Matsui held the South Side Tennis club to tie, 3 matches each. For second competition, most of the Blueboys entered the city championship singles contest. The only high school player to do anything in this match, which was won by Ralph Clay, was Holden Sanford. He defeated Matsui 6-4, 6-4 and Fairall 6-2, 6-0 to get into the semi-finals, whence he lost to Jack Little 6-4, 7-5.

After losing matches to San Francisco Polytechnic, Sacramento, and Patterson, the racquet slingers defeated the Lodi tennis squad seven matches to two. Matsui, Forward, Sanford, and Mann won singles matches, and Sapiro-Parsons, Mann-B. Dozier, Forward-Sanford combined together to take all the doubles contests.

The Blueboys lost one and won the second of a two-match series with the Modesto Junior College wielders. Stockton won three out of nine contests in the first match. In the singles Sanford was the only winner, while in the doubles combinations of Bill Dozier with Tommy Mann and Beck Parsons with Herman Sapiro the Tarzans were victorious. In the second loop the Blue netmen won five out of nine matches and took four of the six singles matches. The results of the match were Fisher (M) d. Dozier (S), 6-3, 3-6, 6-2; Mann (S) d. Bennett (M), 6-2, 6-2; Forward (S) d. Laglin (M), 6-2, 6-2; Parsons (S) d. Greenburg (M), 6-3, 6-2; Lewis (M) d. Sapiro (S), 6-2, 6-2; Sanford (S) d. Hefernan (M), 6-1, 6-1. In the doubles Sanford-Forward were the only winning pair.

This year was one of the liveliest seasons for the tennis varsity. Many games were scheduled to be played in the future, including games for a C. I. F. championship, besides the eight matches already played.

The season closed with the C. I. F. finals held at Oak Park.

GOLF

ONLY one tournament was held this year in time for print. This was the interclass tournament which was won by Orville Suttles with a score of 74. A tie for second linked Ray Wheeler and Edward Monaghan, with 76 each. Roland Hull was fourth with 77.

Coach Lenz arranged schedules with Lodi, Modesto, Sacramento, and Roseville, to be played later in the season. There were eleven boys on the ladder.

The golfers came through for Stockton high to defeat Sacramento 13 to 3 1/3 points with Orville Suttles in the lead.

GOLF

BASEBALL

IT WAS through the efforts of Laurence Weare and Bill Carlisle circulating a petition for baseball as a spring sport that the game was brought back to Stockton High after an absence of six years. Over eighty boys turned out, but the team was soon cut down to fourteen members.

Winning two out of three games against the St. Mary's Rams and defeating Manteca 11-2 was the starting two weeks for the hurlers. The League opened against Sacramento when they lost the first game 8-2. Bill Daoust allowed only seven hits in the second game to take the Dragons 8-3. In the final contest Bob Grogan pitched them to John Lilly to take the Senators with a 10 to 3 tally.

Members of the team were Presto, George, Robertson, Mazzera, Cleland, Joyce, Grogan, Daoust, Lilly, and Godfrey.

Under Coach "Hap" Evans the boys entered the Northern State playoffs.

The sluggers entered the playoffs by taking a close game with Courtland, 4-3. Godfrey's homer in the ninth with three men on base helped a lot. The right to enter the semi-finals was given the boys when they trounced Roseville 18 to 0.

"CEE" BASKETBALL

The lightweight basketball team, the "Cees," started their season with the Japanese Y. M. C. A. team, to whom they lost 19-13, and the El Dorado "A" team, winning 18-16. The St. Mary's "Cees" were next, going down before a 19-12 count. The midgets took two games from the Tokays. The first, 21-11; the second, 17-14.

A final contest for C. I. F. honors led to disaster, as the Blues took a 21-14 drubbing from Sacramento. The team: Changala, Peckler, Corren, Wilson, Cohen Pickett, Rosetti, Owens, Goldwater, Pierce, Miloslavich, Freitas, and Stevens.

For the first time in many years a basketball game ended in a 10-10 tie. This was the Manteca Faculty vs. Stockton Grade-Givers game which opened the season for the local he-men. With Rogers as captain, the team went to Modesto to take a 36-26 drubbing from the Stanislaus County teachers. McKay, Evans, Lenz, Solomon, Kerr, Trombetta, and Libhart hacked the Ripon assignment-givers to pieces to take the third and last game of the season with a 13-12 shave.

MENZIES CUP WINNERS

Competition for the C. M. Menzies Perpetual Trophy, on which are engraved names of the boys receiving the most points for their respective heights, weights, and ages in the events assigned to them by the athletic department, had a very successful year. The winners received for themselves separate cups or medals. Out of the six events the following boys made the most points: Class A, Joe Pease (1st) Martin Baskin (2nd); Class B, Frank McDonnel (1st), Silva Misasi, (2nd); Class C, Charles De Witt (1st), Clifford Hull (2nd); Class D, Clarence Kirk (1st), Joseph La Teer (2nd).
