FOREWORD

DEPARTING FROM THE usual method of printing a book, the staff this year hopes to give, not a complete history of Stockton High School, for that is impossible in the space allotted, but a clear and concise picture of high school life during the past year.

The Editor and staff have tried long and thoughtfully to plan an annual that would please not just a few, but would picture somewhere in its pages, activities that touch on every student's daily life. It has also been their hope that this book of memories would faithfully portray each phase of student life: in the classroom, in sports, at play, and in semi-social life. As its name signifies, this should bring to the seniors memories of the happy four years spent here, and should serve for undergraduates as an inspiration.

—The Editor.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

THIS ANNUAL will serve as a connecting link between you and the Stockton High School for years to come. You may find your future vocation far from this community and be separated from your school friends. There will come many occasions when you will renew old acquaintances through the medium of this book. Old experiences, pleasant memories, and faces, half-forgotten, will be recaptured as you scan its pages. It will be a treasured memento, gaining in value as the years pass. I wish you joy in your possession of this book and the pleasure it will give you wherever you may be.
