THE BAND

The band consists of about seventy-five ambitious students, who want to learn more about music and instruments. Some of these pupils are hoping to make music their life work. Under the direction of Harold A. Heisinger, the band has done a good job in helping the school "Win Friends and Influence People." They play and march at all the football games, and they play at rallies and concerts at different places in town. At the State contest in San Francisco, the band won a superior rating for two years in succession. This is a great honor for Stockton High School.

THE ORCHESTRA

Under the direction of Virginia S. Short, the Orchestra has played for many programs. They played for the February graduation class. For the last two years they have gone to San Francisco to play in the Orchestra Contest, and they have placed very high in the ratings. Miss Short has done a fine job in music and deserves a lot of credit. Some of the Orchestra went up to Sonora to play at the Music Festival. DRAMATICS

ART

EACH YEAR finds the students of Stockton High School more interested in the different phases of art. This means a greater enrollment in the department and more courses offered to the students.

The Art Department is proud of its looms for the weaving classes. Students in Design and Crafts may now weave material thirty-six inches or more in width.

A meditation on the pre-Easter theme given by the music department of Stockton High was considered a huge success. This is the most beautiful of Easter cantatas ever given at this school. With the stage beautifully set and the

CANTATA

The Commercial Art and Freehand Drawing classes have created some splendid examples of modernism in advertising and in the finer arts.

Students in Art Appreciation have been busy constructing and furnishing a miniature modern home. Some students modeled clay objects.

The beginning students of Mechanical Drawing are drawing geometrical figures and other simple objects. Drawings of machinery and houses are made by the advanced students.
