The Music Department this year increased the tempo of its usual schedule of activity under the direction of Mr. F. T. Smith with two school concerts instead of the usual one, and additional concerts at the U. S. O. and at the State Hospital.

December 14, in the first fall concert of the new plan of two school concerts a year, the orchestra performed in the high school auditorium with Joann Elliott and Gloria Lewis the soloists of the evening.

The band, under the direction of Mr. Heisinger, has worked actively in support of the three ring circus with performances at football games and student body assemblies.

The Stockton High Troubadours, under the direction of Frank Thornton Smith, have had a very successful and active year. During the busy Christmas season their schedule of appearances included visits to the Stockton Air Field, the Lions Club, the State Hospital, and the Rotary Club.

During the spring semester the Troubes participated in the production of excellent memorial assemblies, at Easter and later in the memory of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Highlight of the spring semester for the Troubadours came when they "all piled in" to travel to San Francisco to hear John Charles Thomas and experience a few other divergencies from their daily grind.

THIS JEEP IS ONE OF A FLEET PRESENTED TO THE UNITED STATES ARMY BY THE STUDENTS AND FACULTY OF STOCKTON HIGH SCHOOL, STOCKTON, CALIFORNIA.

NOTICE:
PLEASE REPORT PERIODICALLY FATE OF THIS JEEP NO. 20374191 AND RETURN PLAQUE AT END OF THE WAR.

Our Jeeps

Started in January, 1943, the jeep program has been going strong ever since, with the students purchasing an average of two jeeps a week with stamps and bonds.

Since the beginning of the program in 1943, 246 jeeps have been purchased by the students and faculty of Stockton High School. During the Sixth War Loan Drive last December, the students hit an all time high, buying $21,499.70 in stamps and bonds and totaling 23 jeeps in one week. To promote sales, Miss Larson's Public Speaking class presented a program, and the students were urged to buy a minimum of one bond each. From October, 1944, to May 1, 1945, students have purchased a total of $73,312.45 in stamps and bonds, making a total of 81 jeeps during this year.

The school has received many letters from service men overseas concerning the fate of the Jeep Fleet. A plaque is attached to each jeep, giving the number of the jeep and asking to be notified of its whereabouts from time to time. Many responses have come to this request. It is also asked that the plaque be returned if anything happens to the vehicle.

The plaque belonging to Jeep 59 was returned in January, 1944, after its destruction somewhere in the South Pacific. The jeep had been turned over to the Navy and was being used by the Commanding Officer of Aircraft Carrier Service Unit No. 16. Commander Miltimore W. Brush returned the plaque after the vehicle's destruction and he writes, "After the hasty construction of a landing strip, a plane ground looped into Jeep No. 59, killing Commander Tilghman and irreparably damaging the vehicle."

Jeep No. 60 was reported demolished in the battle of Tarawa by Lt. Henry Larson, U. S. N., who sent the plaque back to Stockton.

Honoraries

The Press Club was formed in the Spring semester with the aid of the publications adviser, Mr. J. W. Adamson, to give recognition to those students who have given time and effort in the publication of either the weekly Guard and Tackle or the annual Blue and White.

A publications banquet was held late in the semester for those deserving students and their guests. Graduating members of the club included Barbara Bayne, Mary Lu Bush, Willis Fannon, Bill Fitzgerald, Bernice Golden, Marian Jacobs, spring editor of the Guard and Tackle, Helen Lapcik, annual editor, and Leland Lutz, fall Guard and Tackle editor.

The brains of the circus reached a new high this year with fifty-nine members during the spring semester. During the fall semester, business and pleasure each had a part in the C. S. F. Evening, held in December at the home of its president, Pat Adams; and the spring semester's group got together to bring back the old custom of the annual picnic.

Block "S" Club

This club, which is only for boys outstanding in athletics, has not had its usual round of activity this year because of war time conditions. Fall officers were Jack Ferrill, president, Arnold Schamber, "Tiny" Campora, and Mack Winchell. Spring officers below are Perry Ah Tye and Mel Schmid. Not pictured are Mack Winchell, president, and Jim Willet.

Round Table

Hi-Y Club

The Stockton High School Hi-Y has had a very active year, pursuing their purpose of extending high standards of Christian character throughout the school and community. The Hi-Y's, in cooperation with the Tri-Y girls, held a pot-luck dinner and program once a month at the Y.M.C.A. Officers pictured below are Howard Fong, Norman Shultz, Robert McCaffrey, and Roger Dossett. Not present was Bill Harper.

Chinese Club

Under the sponsorship of Miss Geoghan, this club has been very successful in its purpose—to increase the number of friendships and social contacts among the Chinese students. This spring these students held, among other things, a raffle, the proceeds of which went to the Red Cross. Officers were Frank Fong, Kathryn Lee, Joe Mah, and Kim Yip.

Tri-Y Club

With the formation of two new clubs this year, membership has increased in the Tri-Y organization. Presidents of the fall groups were Eula Stewart, Dorothy Gross, and Virginia Jessup. Spring leaders pictured above are Ann Brown, Irene Huston; second row, Florence Totten, Barbara Adams, and Dorothy Knox.

Stamp Club

The Stamp Club, under the able leadership of President Alan Talt, has been very active at Stockton High School this past year. There are thirty active members in the club. With meetings being held once a month, the hobby of stamp collecting has turned out very successfully for members of the club with the opportunities for exchange that it offers.

Girls' League Club

Veterans Club

Guard and Tackle

Active in support of all three of the great rings of the Stockton High School Circus, and perhaps one of the biggest sideshows these past semesters, is the weekly publication, the Guard and Tackle, commonly referred to as the GAT.

With the adviser setting much of the copy and printing the paper, and in spite of all war-time restrictions and difficulties, the Guard and Tackle has continued to reach the students regularly each Friday afternoon during the seventh period class.

Credit for advancement in typographical make-up goes to the fall editor, Leland Lutz, who joined countless other high school newspapers in adopting the streamlined style of make-up in which all superfluous column rules and jim dashes were deleted. The spring editor, Marian Jacobs, continued and developed this trend, making the paper improve while publication difficulties grew worse.

Among achievements to which the fall staff can point with pride is the Locker Key Contest, initiated with the cooperation of the advertisers to awaken student interest in the ads; the Guard and Tackle Straw Vote Poll, held just before the last presidential election, was a great success; and the special edition of the paper put out in support of the Sixth War Loan Drive in December.

Highlights of the spring semester's staff activities included a hilarious edition of the annual Grunt and Tickle on April 1, and a publications banquet late in the semester to celebrate another successful year of journalistic endeavor.

Blue and White

We have done our utmost to give you a book which would hold many enjoyable hours for you. It is hoped that you will derive pleasure from this, the 1945 Blue and White, now and in years to come, when you will look back on your high school days.

The year was started off with an enthusiastic sales campaign, which led to the production of the Blue and White Show, written by and produced under the direction of Leland Lutz, and one of the most entertaining assemblies of the year.

In spite of all war time difficulties and shortages, the book was made larger than those of the preceding two years. Obtaining film proved to be the most difficult obstacle, and groans and moans could be heard when film had been loaded incorrectly or pictures were out of focus.

Staff members included Barbara Bayne, art editor; Gary Gray, assistant art editor; Maxine Tully, business manager; Mary Lu Bush, senior editor; Willis Fannon, sports editor; Bernice Golden, service section; Gordon Van Vlack, photographer; Pat Vickrey and Val Frombolo; and last but not least, Helen Lapcik, the editor, and Mr. J. W. Adamson, publications adviser.

Thanks go to those people who helped assemble the annual. "A little something for everybody" was adopted for the motto in 1945 and we have done our best to carry it out.

Varsity Football

Sports, as usual, were the highlights of the entertainment under the "big top" this year. Many of the famous troopers of the past had moved on to a bigger and more important show—that of Uncle Sam's—but the performers who remained gave the crowds full value for their money.

Trainers Mike Garrigan, Armand Seghetti, and Al Lynde had their football men in top shape when the show got under way last October. The Tarzan eleven played nine games during the season, winning six and losing once to the Modesto Junior College and twice to Modesto High School. They tied for the Sac-Joaquin (Southern Section) title and were defeated in the playoff.

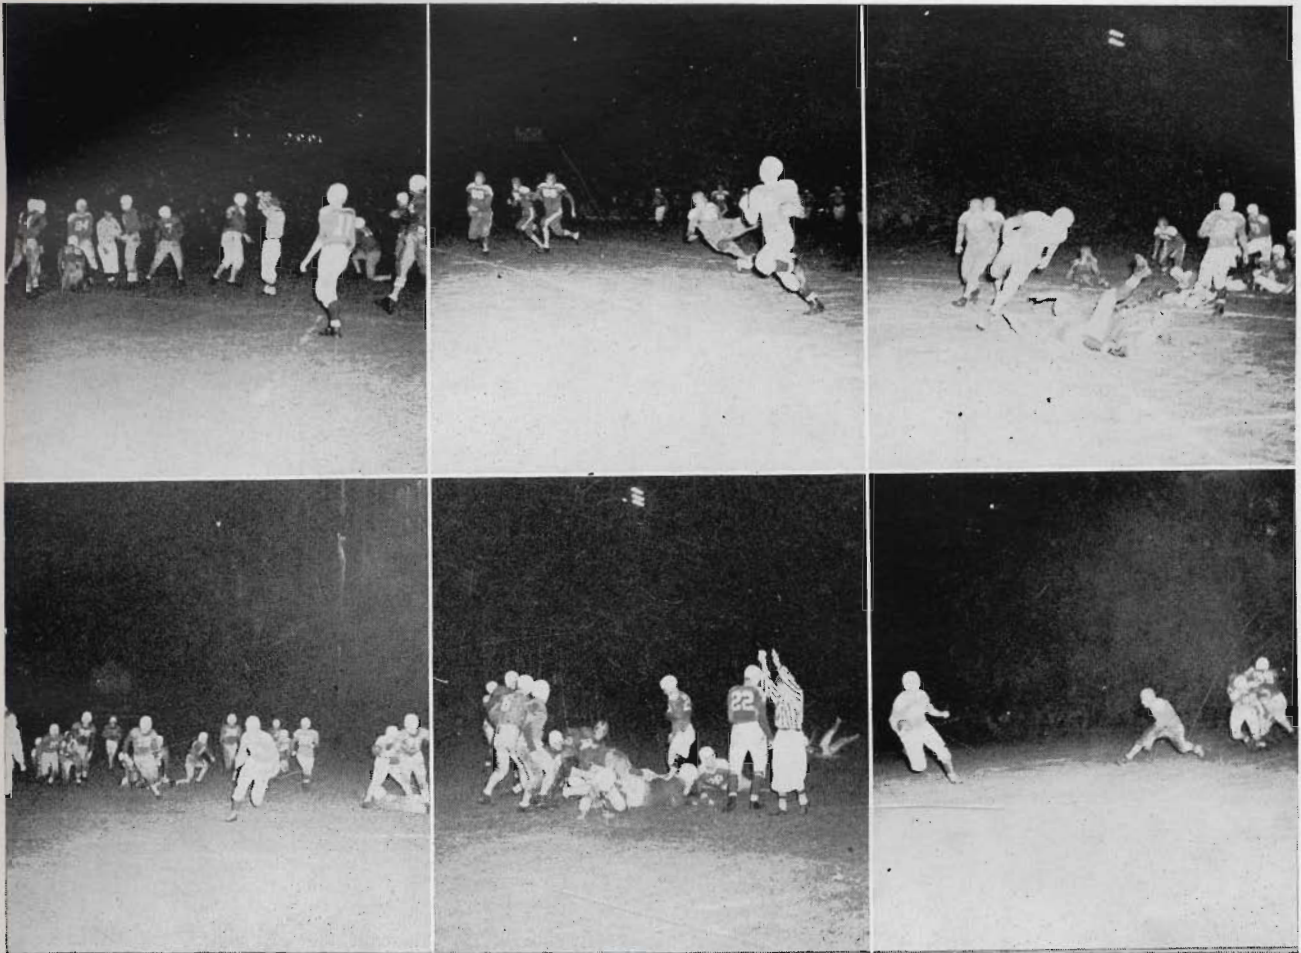

The original schedule of the Tarzans included two games with San Francisco prep teams, one with Poly and one with Mission, but neither team was able to make the trip. Since Mission was the first team on the Tarzan schedule, another high school in this vicinity was sought for a "curtain raiser." Modesto Junior College finally agreed to send its reserves to meet the Stockton High eleven. The Tarzans looked like champions in the first half of the game and at one time were leading 12-7. The Modesto J.C. coach rushed in his first team, led by Dean Sensenbaugh, all-state junior college halfback, to save the game. Two touch-down passes eventually won the fray for the visitors, the final score being 20-12.

The following week the Tarzans met the Bellarmine preps of San Jose. The Stockton line consistently outcharged the Bell forwards and Klein, Isaacson, and Sutherland rambled for long gains, and the Tarzans emerged from the contest on the long end of a 40-6 score.

The Turlock Bulldogs fell twice during the season before the hard-hitting Tarzans. In the first game the Blue and White gridders ran roughshod over the hapless Bulldogs and won 44-0. Rain slowed down the second contest, but in the second half the Tarzans started rolling and defeated Turlock 38-0.

The traditional rivalry between the Flames and the Tarzans was as keen as ever this year, but the Lodi team could not match the speed and power thrown at it by Coach Garrigan's gridders. On two occasions the Flames fell before the Stockton High School team—first to the tune of 31-0 and later in the season by a score of 14-0.

The best football under the "big top" this year came when the Panthers of Modesto and the Tarzans tangled in three "classic" battles. In the first of these games McDonald and Jarvis of the Panthers had a field day at the expense of the Tarzans and were largely responsible for the 27-13 trouncing given the Stockton team. Bill Isaacson's 63 yard run for a touchdown was the highlight of the game.

On November 17 came the return game with the Modesto team. The Panthers started strong and appeared certain to be on their way to another win. The Tarzans would not be denied, however, and came back to snatch victory by a 14-12 score. Statistics proved that the Blue and White team was the better football eleven that night.

The play-off game for the Southern Division title between Stockton and Modesto was played December 9 at Modesto. The Tarzans drew first blood in the encounter when Bud Klein threw a touchdown pass to George Sinnock. The extra point was scored and Stockton left the field at half time leading 7-0. The Panthers came back in the second half to score twice, giving them the game 13-7 and the championship of the league. The Panthers went on to defeat the McClatchy Lions for the Sac-Joaquin championship.

Varsity Basketball

After the football performers had left the center ring, Coach Pete Lenz entered with his trained hoop artists to thrill the student body with 36 exciting basketball acts. Against all opposition the Lenzmen chalked up 27 victories, and against high school teams they won 13 out of the 16 games played. The Blue and White varsity quintet scored 1291 points for an average of 36.8 per game. They won the Modesto Invitational Tournament and the City League.

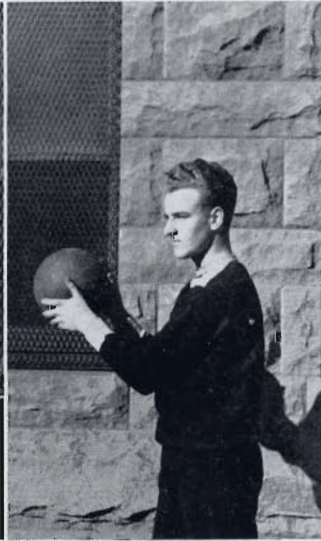

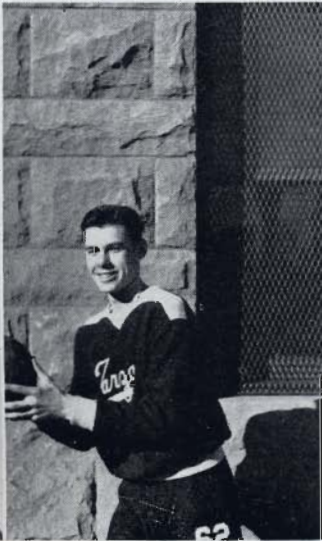

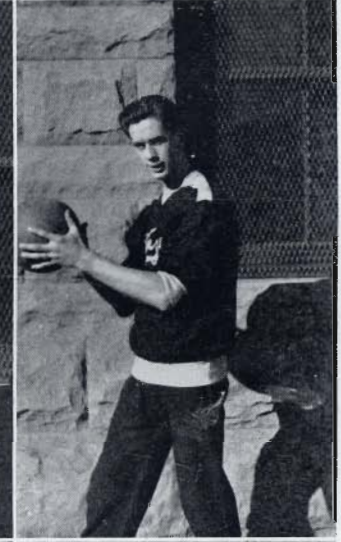

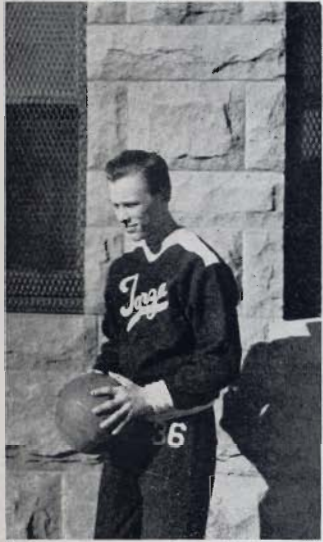

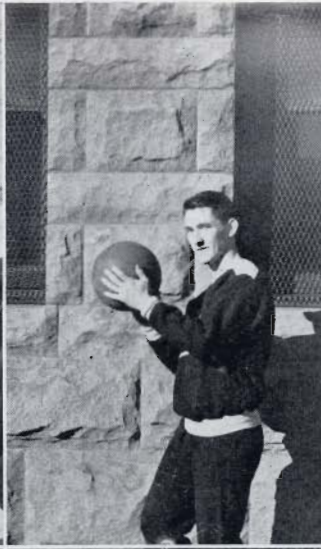

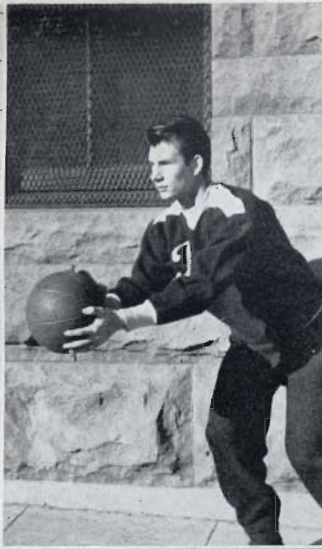

At the Modesto Junior College Tournament the Tarzans defeated Merced 61-7, St. Mary's 38-35, and Modesto 33-27 to win the crown. Jerry Haines was voted "outstanding player" of the tournament. Wins over Pacific Market, Native Sons, Pacific Blacks, St. Mary's High School and Edison High School gave the Tarzans the City League championship. The Stockton five defeated the Pacific Market team, winners of the second half of the schedule, for the title.

In Sac-Joaquin League competition the Tarzans started off as if they were going to win the title without too much opposition. They easily defeated the Turlock Bulldogs 55-23 and followed this up with a 30-27 win over Modesto. Jack Heath, Stockton guard, was outstanding in the Modesto game, holding Bobby Lee, Panther star, to two field goals and two fouls for a total of six points.

Hopes for an undefeated conference season faded when the Lodi Flames upset the Lenzman 39-38. This game was followed by a win over Turlock, 41-15. With the championship at stake the Blue and White five folded before a Modesto team that would not be denied. The Tarzans were defeated by a score of 39-31. And the final game of the season saw the Lenzmen losing their second game to Lodi, 32-31.

Jerry "Jess" Haines was high scorer for the season and he was closely followed by Bill "Mojo" McFarland. Jack Heath was the player of the year on the 1944-1945 team. He was the best defensive guard in the league and was also good for many needed points during the season. Three members of the team made the All Southern Division team. They were Jack Heath, Bill McFarland, and Bud Klein. Jerry Haines did not play all of the league games because of illness and this accounts for his not being named to this team.

While the Varsity was performing in the center ring the Bee and Cee teams were putting on hardly less spectacular acts in the side rings. Ring Master Mike Garrigan had his lightweight charges in good condition and took two titles during the season. The Bees won the championship of the Civic League in City play and also copped the Sac-Joaquin (Southern Section) title. They were defeated by Sacramento High School in the championship playoff.

During the season the Bees defeated Woodland, Sacramento, Grant, Lodi twice, Modesto twice, Turlock twice, S.O.D.E.A., State Guard, Polships, Laetare, Hickinbothams, and the Vernalis Navy Reserves. Hal Sconyers, Van Lawrence, Bud Delaney, Bob Sanguinetti, Howard Rehnert, and Bob Ramirez were the outstanding players on the lightweight team.

The Cee team, coached by Al Lynde, won three out of the five games played. They defeated the Linden Bees twice and the Edison Bees once. They lost to the Tracy Bees and the Turlock Cees. Members of the team were Tom Kinger, Elmer Sweeney, Charles Herring, Phil Smith, Bill Swenson, Nick Chiarchianis, and Marvin Bargagliotti.

Baseball

The star performers of the circus this year were the baseball players. These players were the first athletic blue ribbon winners for Stockton High School this year, and they captured the Sac-Joaquin title by going undefeated in the Southern Section and by defeating McClatchy High in the playoff.

The Tarzans opened their season against Manteca and walloped the Buffaloes in a game that proved to be a try-out for baseball prospects. Our cross-city rivals, Edison High, challenged the Blue and White baseballers but were repulsed by the Tarzans by a 2-0 count. The Stockton nine traveled to Sacramento to battle the Christian Brothers nine who handed them their first defeat, 6-4. Sacramento High School came to Stockton to renew their year-old rivalry and went to the Capital City on the short end of a 4-1 score.

The league season was opened at Turlock with the Tarzans defeating the Bulldogs by a 10-1 score. Seghetti's nine got their chance for revenge against the Christian Brothers the following week, but once again the Saints turned back the Blue and White baseballers, this time by a 5-4 count. The Tarzans got back on their win streak when they took the second league game, this from Modesto, by a 3-2 score. The Tarzans split on their next two, winning from Lodi 4-0 and losing to the College of Pacific.

A repeat victory over Turlock was scored next, and then the Seghetti coached nine went on to win the final games from Modesto and Lodi to win the championship (Southern Section) without a defeat.

In the playoff game for the Sac-Joaquin title Bill McFarland pitched five-hit ball and the Tarzans played without committing one error to win 3-1.

T r a c k

Next to appear in the big ring are the circus thinclads. These thinclad performers didn't have a blue ribbon outfit but were out giving their best at every performance.

The first track meet was held on the high school track against Edison, and the final result showed Edison leading the 'A' division while the Tarzans copped the 'B' and 'C' divisions. Jack Lamberty, Stockton Cee, scored 14 point in this meet with a first place in the 100 yard low hurdles, the 100 yard dash and a tie for first in the high jump.

The first big meet was the Auburn Invitational in which the Blue and White varsity tracksters didn't fare so well, only grabbing seventh place. The Tarzan Bees grabbed second honors in the Bee division by scoring 22½ points.

Traveling to Lodi for the next meet, the Stockton thinclads trounced the Flames in all three divisions. The A's scored 71 points to Lodi's 32; the B's scored 67 points to the Tokay City tracksters 31; and the Cees took top honors by a 34-12 count.

Their fourth meet of the season proved very dismal to Coach "Hap" Evans' cindermen. Modesto High trounced the Tarzans in all three divisions: A's—Modesto 62, Stockton 42; B's—Panthers 71, Tarzans 32; C's—Modesto 40, Stockton 19.

This was followed by a second place in the Vernalis Invitational for the Blue and White tracksters. The Stockton cindermen were squeezed out by Oakdale 14-13. The Tarzans took first in the medley relay, second in 160 yard low hurdles and in the 440 yard relay, and Mel Schmid took third place in the 100 yard dash.

T e n n i s

Stockton High's tennis team presented a good performance to the spectators in their part of the Big Show this spring, under the coaching of Wallace "Mac" McKay. Up to the deadline for Blue & White copy they had kept a clean slate, having three victories tucked under their belts.

In their initial encounter of the season, our netmen trounced the Modesto Panthers by a count of 6-1.

Lon Underwood, Marvin Wigley, Philip Korbholz, and Charles Stoller were successful in their singles matches, while Underwood-Wigley and Korbholz-Stoller won their doubles matches in straight sets.

The following week the Tarzan netmen gave a repeat performance, again defeating the Panthers. Their margin of victory this time was slightly narrower, the final score being 6-4. Underwood, Wigley, and Korbholz came through again with victories over their opponents in the singles matches, while Wigley and Underwood combined to defeat their opponents in the doubles match by straight sets, 13-11 and 6-3.

The Tarzans followed up this victory with a 6-1 win over Lodi, maintaining their undefeated record. In this meet Marvin Wigley whitewashed his opponent, 6-0, 6-0. Phil Korbholz won his match in straight sets, and Charles Stoller and John Elliott took three sets each to dump their opponents.

Underwood and Wigley ganged up on their opponents in the doubles matches to trounce them by a score of 6-0, 6-1. Stoller and Korbholz also came though with a win over their opposition.

G o l f

The Tarzan golf team played their part well under the Big Top by defeating the Modesto squad in two consecutive encounters by scores of 8-4 and 7-5.

Coach Pete Lenz chose his team from the highest scorers who reported to him before the opening of the season on April 26. Bud Klein and Fred Solomon alternated between first and second places on the team. The rest of the squad included Stan Dinkel, John Elliott, Roland Jordan, and Bob Chapman.

In the first Modesto engagement, Solomon won by a default, Klein lost 1-2, Dinkel won 3-0, and Roland Jordan lost 1-2. Fred Solomon and Stan Dinkel each took his match in the second Modesto meet. John Elliott played to a tie, and Roland Jordan, substituting for Klein, dropped his match.

When this copy was written, Coach Lenz had a number of contests arranged. He stated that he had not had many arranged before the end of the baseball season so that his "divot-diggers" would not be handicapped with an incomplete team.

The boys were not entered in a definite league, but they were scheduled to take part in the sectional play-offs which were to be held this spring at Grant Union High School in North Sacramento.

Pete Lenz was pleased with his squad and confidently remarked "The team is good, and I expect them to win the sectional play-offs."

FIRST ROW—John Elliott, Bob Chapman, Stanley Dinkel.
SECOND ROW—Fred Solomon, Roland Jordan, Bud Klein.

Girls' Sports

The Girls' Physical Education Department, with Mrs. Agnes D. May as head, has a wide variety of sports to offer the girls of Stockton High School.

The 9B and 9A classes have long ball, flash ball, bounce ball, hit pin, tennis, and volley ball. Instructors for the freshman classes are Mrs. May, Miss Kathleen Mitchell, and Mrs. Fred Solomon.

Archery, none court basketball, and ring volley are played by 10B and 10A students. Sophomore instructors are Mrs. Lorenzen, Mrs. Solomon, and Miss Mitchell.

Miss G. U. Bliss, Mrs. Solomon, and Mrs. Lorenzen instruct juniors, also. Their classes play paddle tennis, table tennis, horse shoes, deck tennis, field ball, and soft ball.

The seniors, instructed by Mrs. Marjorie Sheridan, play hockey, soft ball, and volley ball.

All recreational sports are learned when the girls are juniors. Each class has dancing once a week—square dancing and social dancing for all classes and senior classes only have modern dancing. All classes play soft ball the last months of the spring semester when the field is in condition. On days when it rains, classes are doubled up and have square dancing and social dancing in the gym.

Most classes have theory once a week, where they learn hygiene and rules of games. This year, during the fall semester, the senior classes were instructed in first aid.

Each spring, under the direction of Miss Kathleen Mitchell, a girls' tennis tournament is held. The winner has her name inscribed on the Tollit Trophy, which is then placed in the main hall.

This trophy was first contested for in 1927, when it was won by Jean Rule. For the last three consecutive years, the winner has been Frances Rembold, who is now a junior.
