

TEEN AGE SHOP

Penney's

A department store with yardage, infants' wear, ladies' ready to wear, millinery, and men's clothing is Penney's. Here the teen age shop is shown as Marijane Curran tries on slacks, flared jacket, and a bright red scarf to complete the outfit. Bill Stites looks on, sporting slacks and a sport coat from Penney's men's department.

Simard's

Printing of all description is done at the Simard Printing Company: tickets, announcements, programs, and our own Blue and White are all products of their craft. The plant is located at 726-32 East Weber Avenue.

Delta

Sodas, sundaes, shakes, and more, are all yours at the Delta, the spot to meet the gang. Koleta Graham, Nancy Hoyt, and Virginia Duncan enjoy their orders.

Delta

Enjoying the speedy service are Theda Martin, Dot Daykin, and Jill Bennett, well pleased with the wide variety of sandwiches and other food found at the popular Delta.

Smith & Lang

Donna Drais bids farewell to Barbara Gale and Marilyn Ringel as they leave a luncheon enjoyed in the Bungalow. Barbara selects kelleygreen flair-back coat, with a black straw hat from the Millinery department. Donna models a black ballerina skirt and a Gibson Girl blouse, while Marilyn wears a ballerina type suit from Smith & Lang.

Threlfall's

The fellows talk over a program in front of the Stockton High Auditorium, while sporting apparel from the stylish men's clothier, Threlfall's Ray Henney displays grey slacks and a maroon corduroy jacket, while Al Young wears a yellow corduroy shirt and beige slacks.

Orsi's

The counters in Orsi's seem a tempting place when visited by Ann Waite, Pat Craig, and Marilyn Ilgenfritz. The candy shelves are filled with only the best: Wilson's and Maskey's, both highly praised brands. Hot dishes and pastries make this a very popular place.

John Ball

"Clothes make the man!" You can find the latest and best, designs especially for that "Bold look" you fellows like so well. Jerry Griffin, Vic Segarini, Horace Saunders, Stan Songer, and Walt McGillvray seem well satisfied with their varied selections from John Ball, men's clothier.

Dick's

Sally Sims, Miriam Sage, Kay Gormson, and Mitzi McLoud keep their date to meet the gang at Dick's, popular for its speedy service, the best shakes, and super hamburgers. Food of every kind is served day and night. This is the place to go!

Oxford Shop

Bob Driggs eyes a good looking sport jacket, while Don Sorenson looks over other merchandise. A complete line of the latest styles and high quality goods for both sport or dress occasion is sold at the Oxford Shop, a new store with new ideas.

Yost Brothers

Andy Gainza selects a suit for graduation. He models a green plaid coat while approving the pants which Don Bradford holds. Don tries a sport coat, after looking over a wide variety of them, including the new corduroy jackets, all to be found at Yost Bros.

Tilton's

Located at 17 South California Street, Tilton's is quite the family store. Furniture, men's furnishings, ladies' ready to wear and jewelry are a few items on sale in this modern store. Alaine Haydon awaits her date in a Tilton formal, while chatting with Lillian Walcott, who wears one of Tilton's sport dresses.

Pepsi-Cola

Two tall bottles of cold Pepsi-Cola give just the pep needed by Tom Freeman and Jack Myers after a morning of hard work. It's the drink that really "has what it takes!"

Calvin's

Sheet music, records, and musical instruments are all found at Johnny Calvin's. Jeannine Goettel, Joe Boggs, Carol Houston, and John Cima approve the popular recordings always available at the new and modern music store located on Pacific Avenue.

Friedberger's

Bobb Inn

This drive-in is as popular inside as out, is located near the campus, serves in a hurry and "nothing but the best!" Shirley Isaacson, Dick Eichelberger, Don Hickinbotham, Bill Kowatch, Carolee Long, Eloise Jones, Jackie Gall, Barbara Curnow, and Ken Beebe enjoy these qualities of the Bobb Inn.

The Wonder

The Wonder

Your summer sportswear problem can all be solved at the Wonder. Pam Dunmire has helped solve her problem by choosing a pink mid-riff blouse with brown peddle-pushers, Bev Spradling betters the situation with a black and red check sundress and suede sandals.
