SPARTANETTES

Assisting the school in any way possible is the principal objective of the Spartanettes, the service club of the school. The club consists of thirty outstanding junior and senior girls, and is under the supervision of Miss Marjorie Berckhan. The girls take tickets at games, usher at programs, assist in career day and open house activities, and show new students around the campus.

DEBATING SOCIETY

Under the direction of Mrs. Martha White, the Debating Society meets to discuss current topics which are of interest to the group. The main objective of the club is to improve the students' ability in expressing themselves. They participate in panel discussions within the group in preparation for future debates. The principal activities sponsored by the club are exchange debates with other schools.

The curtain rises. The director, Mr. John Condie, watches with pride as the cast moves about in a performance. There has been a one act play for the P.T.A., and a one act play for the Carnival. There have been well-planned meetings and several trips to different plays put on by local theatres. The actors and actresses of the local chapter are also members of the National Honor Society. In order to become part of the cast, the applicants must earn a certain number of points by participating in some of San Juan's dramatic productions. Then, after many exhilarating moments enjoyed by the cast throughout the year, the curtain falls, and the performers express heart-felt appreciation for the guidance and direction they have recieved by their outstanding and capable supervisor.

FUTURE TEACHERS

Future Teachers' Club is composed of the students who have an interest in preparing for the teaching profession. Under the supervision of Mrs. Everdine Holen, the club hears guest speakers presenting their views and ideas on the teaching career. This club is an opportunity for a student to get a first hand view of teaching before taking any steps into that vocation.

F. B. L. A.

F.B.L.A. is a club formed to give interested business students an opportunity to gain worth while business experience. Learning how to meet people and to handle money, learning various ways of earning a living, and performing service operations for organization are the top objectives of the group. Under Mr. Daniels' supervision, the San Juan F.B.L.A. co-sponsored the State Convention for all the F.B.L.A. members in the state of California. Also this year, they sponsored an aftergame dance, various cake sales, a booth in the carnival, and a field trip. Speakers from the different fields of business are invited to speak to the group, thus giving members of the club opportunities to discuss business with business people.

LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club, under the direction of Mr. F. Hager, is composed of First year Latin students maintaining a B in Latin and all second year and advanced Latin students. These students enter into different aptitude tests which have ratings on a national scale. Once a year there is a Latin Banquet which these students attend. The first year students, dressed in gunny sacks, are auctioned off to the advanced Latin students, and are required to do their owner's every command. The second year students buy their slaves by doing extra work.

CAMERA CLUB

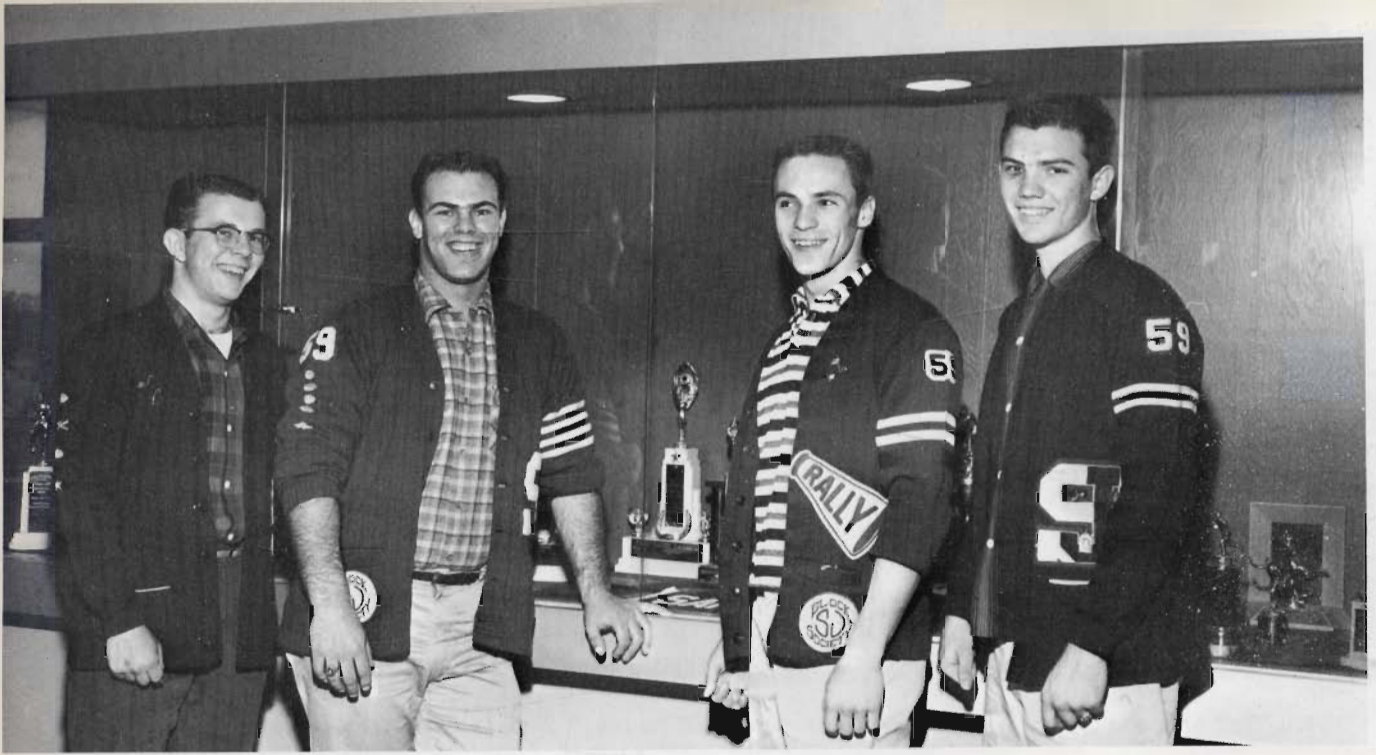

Click.

A click followed by a bright flash betrays the presence of a member of camera club. Running up and down the football field, the basketball court, and the baseball diamond in order to get excellent action shots is the job of these ambitious camera club members. Under the direction of Mr. Taggart the club takes pictures of the different games, of queen candidates, variety shows, crazy days, and other things out of the ordinary. Much of their time is spent in the dark room developing pictures, retouching pictures, and reproducing pictures. Pictures, flash bulbs, film, cameras, and photogenic models are all that it takes to keep these camera club members happy and busy.

Busy at work is our efficient camera club.

SPARKALETTES

Miss Johnston, the sponsor of Sparkalettes, really has to be on the ball in order to keep up with the interest and the enthusiasm of the members. The Sparkalettes, San Juan girls who really have school spirit are seen at the games wearing the traditional red and white, cheering themselves hoarse. The Sparkalettes help keep the student body's spirit up, remind the students to attend games, and wear white in order to be able to sit in the rooter's section.
