INTRODUCTORY

We feel that in presenting the sixteenth issue of the Stockton City and San Joaquin County Directory that it will compare favorably with the previous issue.

Both the city and county information have been secured through personal house to house canvass by men carefully trained in this work. Every effort has been made to avoid errors and omissions. Names, initials, occupations and other data have been thoroughly verified.

The Directory of Householders or House Guide, which has proved of invaluable assistance to users of the Directory, is as usual one of the main features of the present issue.

We extend our thanks to the people of San Joaquin County for their uniform courtesy to our solicitors in quest of information and to the merchants for their advertising patronage, which we trust is well deserved and will prove a good investment.

POPULATION

The Stockton City section of this volume contains by actual count 20,159 names, exclusive of married women, students, girls who have no occupation and Orientals, an increase of 834 over 1922. Using the accepted multiple found to be accurate by Directory Publishers, this gives an estimated population for Stockton City of 50,297, an increase of 1,984 over 1922.

Respectfully,

POLK-HUSTED DIRECTORY CO.

September 25, 1923.
