Woodside and Portola

Woodside is an old unincorporated community five miles southwest from Redwood City. It is reached by a finely paved highway, a stage line running through to La Honda. Portola is to the south about a mile. The two settlements are in the midst of fine farming and cattle country and are surrounded by fine country places owned by wealthy people of San Francisco.

the money to get a good living.

You don't care so much for cost if you get what you want.
If you want high quality and service be willing to pay.

San Carlos

San Carlos is an unincorporated community three miles north of Redwood City on the line of the railroad and El Camino Real. It is also close to the bay shore. Community spirit is united in the following organizations:

San Carlos Community Club—John E. Cowgill, president; F. H. Drake, F. T. Odgers, vice presidents; Asa E. Hull, treasurer; Miss May M. Quinn, secretary.

School Board—John E. Cowgill, chairman; Mrs. Effie Mahany, Fred T. Odgers, clerk.

San Carlos Parent-Teacher Association—Mrs. Mary M. Quinn, president; Mrs. Charles B. Marvin, vice president; Mrs. R. Dennery, secretary; Mrs. L. A. Conklin, treasurer; Miss Gertrude Hind, historian.

Investigate the beauties of the bay as well as its commercial advantages. You will get much satisfaction from it.
