Line Coach

Mustang Football

With Don Hall moving up to head coaching rank and the addition of newcomers Keever Jankovich and Bill Parton to the staff, the 'Tangs had high hopes for a successful season. Despite outstanding performances by Don Miller, Junior Reynosa, Ben Parks, and Gene Campbell, the team ended up in fifth place. Throughout the season, the 'Tangs showed flashes of superior playing ability, but often were unable to hold their rivals for the entire sixty minute period of play.

The team dropped their first conference contest, but ended up in a tie the next three times. This situation led the "Collegian" to apply the saying "Always a bridesmaid, but never a bride." The 'Tangs, however, ran all over the San Mateo eleven, showing real power and coordination while running up a 34-7 score.

Colt Football

SC's Colt varsity ended a successful season in the powerful Sac-Joaquin conference with a 6 win - 3 loss record that landed them in 5th place. The team was dubbed the "Hurricanes" early in the season as Coach Harry Kane worked his boys into a smooth running machine.

Team play was sparked by brilliant playing on the part of such Colts as Adrean Vera, named to play in the annual Shrine North - South game, Bob Mingram, Don Miniaci, Fred Almendarez, and Captain George Cosgrove.

"The most famous name in football," Amos Alonzo Stagg, was ever present at football practice sessions as an advisory coach. He was inadvertently bowled over one day and suffered injuries from which he has now fully recovered.

Bill Gott
Assistant Coach

Harry Kane
Head Coach

Coach Harry Kane was new to SC in 1954, coming from Taft High School where he had a top-rate football team. He was formerly an outstanding line backer for College of the Pacific, but was injured in an exhibition game which ended his chances of a brilliant professional football career. Coach Bill Gott also was new to SC, moving up from Edison High in Stockton.
