

Arthur Godi
Student Body President

Art Godi received the gavel as president of the Stockton College Student Association last year after spending four years in student government activities, holding the office of Vice-President during the previous year.

As DeMolay Master Councilor, an office which he held during half of his term as president, and an active member of Key Club, Italian Club, Student Faculty Committee, Alpha Gamma Sigma, and Rotary, he kept himself busy, although he always found time for an occasional game of ping-pong or round of boxing. He was always present at the athletic contents and other school activities.

His plans for the future are somewhat uncertain but fall along the lines of political science and law. He plans to attend either Stanford University or University of California.

The 'wheels' were camera-caught debating over an article in The Collegian.

"Hand over da cabbage!" Two "thugs" are working over Joe DeCristofaro, a Stockton College student and professional boxer, trying to convince him that he should buy a student body card.
