Front row: Bill Fisher, manager; Russell Lagomarsino, Wayman Hall, Fred McCullough, Tony Comporato, Larry Drace;
second row: Dick Quessenburry, Lauren Pettis, Don Velez, Dave Hatch, Rodger DeReuix, George Butorac, Frank Boyle, coach.

Depth was again the problem that faced the Mustang track crew. The only bright spots were in the sprints with Eddie Torres and Russ Lagomarsino; in the hurdles with Lauren Pettis and Don Velez; in the broadjump with Rodger DeReuix, and in the discuss with Jim Quessenburry. Lack of men in the distance events also was a major handicap.

and Tony Comparato

practice sprint.

Fred Butorac, Dave Hatch, Larry Drace, Rodger De Reux, and Fred McCullough all enjoyed a friendly rivalry during a practice run.

A study of facial expressions as Lauren Pettis nosed out Waymond Hall.

Dave Hatch, Russell Lagomarsino, Larry Drace, Rodger De Reux displayed mixed emotions as they finished a practice distance run.

"Easy on the toes!"
cried a voice,
as pitcher Bill Leach
charged for the sack.

Bill Leach, slugger, gets the end of the game and it's been a pleasure for me to be on a team with you playing first base. You did a real great job a
I think no one can do with the efforts made than I. Lots of next year

With a heavy-hitting crew but a questionable pitching staff, the Tang horsehiders were still respected throughout the league. With Bob Leopold gone, Coach Don Hall had to count on Bill Leach and Devere Schnabel for his mound staff; backing these boys were Roy Laughterdale and Ron Kuel.

In outfielder Joy Gritts, Coach Hall had one of the most respected hitters in the league.

The East Contra Costa man arrived safely at first as Ben Nicholas received a throw too late.

Shortstop Pete Catlett beat out an infield hit.

Mustang Waterpolo

With one returning letterman and a host of new faces the Stockton College Waterpoloists gave a good account of themselves during the season. Although not comparable to last year's team, the Tangs won their share of meets. The team was inspired by Ed Hinshaw, who came close to breaking the school record for total points in one season. New faces were Bob Duran, Jim McHugh, and Dennis Ahearn.

Mustang Swimming

With Ed Hinshaw leading the way the Mustang splashers swam past most of the opponents who faced them. Outstanding help also came from Mickey Gasser and Larry Mullins. Hinshaw's specialty was the 200- and 400-yard freestyle. The Tangs also won the Junior College Dual Meet Championship.

Not winning a single match, but trying all the time, the Mustang tennis team under Coach Bill Jacogs ended a hapless season. Outside of their No. 1 man, Tom Means, the Tangs lacked depth. Playing in the other positions were Don Kibby, Dick Radda, and Don Mertinser.

Mustang Golf

The Stockton College divot diggers had a successful season although Coach Gene Stagnaro was unable to find a consistent low scorer. As a result, they lost vital points in the clutches which cost critical games. They shot in the 80's.

Brent Grimm, Allen Tinker;
second row:
Wayne Smith, Phil Smith,
and Ron Hildebrand.

Ron Hildebrand kept his eyes on the ball which sailed through the air to land on SC's green golfer's lawn.
