Honoring

Our first responsibility to our boys now in school is to develop their physical fitness—agility, strength, endurance, and coordination. Never was the demand so great for men with leadership and ability to direct and carry out this program. When the services of a man of this caliber are also needed in the armed forces, his loss to us is part of our contribution to the war effort. To show our appreciation for such a person, whose loyalty, cooperation, high ideals, and leadership have left an indelible impression on the boys and girls of this school, we feel it apropos to dedicate the 1943 Pleiades to him, William Daniel Thornton.
